Unexplained delay in project for elderly

Local officials are in the dark as to why there has been no progress since last fall on the construction of a 12 unit senior citizens residence on Church St. in Stirling.

Reeve Robert Anderson said yesterday he understood the contractor on the project, Jack Law of Peterborough, stopped development of the building when he failed to obtain a signed contract with the Ontario Housing Corporation, which is responsible for establishing the complex.

The Peterborough firm was awarded the contract for the project last fall and proceeded with excavation work and installation of sewers. Apparently the contractor commenced work prior to the signing of a contract.

Reeve Anderson said he is still hopeful the apartments will be ready for occupancy this fall, adding that if work does not resume soon, council will take action to determine what is causing the delay.

W. L. Pollock, clerk-treasurer, said he has received numerous enquiries about the delay from citizens interested in seeking accommodation in the apartments. To date, however, he has been unable to get any answers either from the contractor or the OHC, he said.

Mount Pleasant Church Centennial

As early as 1860, the congregation of Mount Pleasant started to hold services in various places including the Allen and Williams School and in the open air. It was part of the Stirling Mission. The church was built and dedicated in June, 1871, during the ministry of the late Rev. Charles Taggart. The original name was Hubble Hill Methodist Church. The former Baptist Church building was moved to the property of Mount Pleasant and has been used as a community hall. In 1949, Mount Pleasant church was renovated.

Now the congregation plans special centennial events. Hoard's United Church was also built in 1871, so on May 16, they invited the Mount Pleasant congregation to worship with them and stay for a social time. June 6 at 11:15 a.m. is the Special Reunion Sunday when all members, adherents and ministers, past and present, are especially invited to attend. Refreshments and a social hour are planned. Rev. R. R. Bonsteel will be the speaker.

July 11 at 10 a.m. will be Sunday School Anniversary when all former teachers and pupils are welcomed. August 15 at 2:30 p.m. will be Cemetery Decorations day. The service will be outdoors, weather permitting. A band is to provide special music.

On Sept. 25 at 8:00 p.m., a Variety Night will be held when Mount Pleasant will entertain Hoard's. On Nov. 7, an anniversary service with the Rev. Fred Joblin preaching, will be held.

Bethel UCW

The regular meeting of Bethel UCW was held in the church hall on the evening of May 27.
Mrs. G. Russell called the meeting to order with the reading of part of Psalm 90. The hymn, From all that dwell below the skies, was sung. The roll call was answered by the introduction of a friend or friends each member had brought. Mrs.
Russell welcomed all.
Mrs. M. Cooney and Mrs. William Heath led in the worship service. Happy the home when God is there, was sung. Mrs.
Heath read the scripture taken from St. Luke, Chapter 2. The offering was received and dedicated. Mrs. Cooney gave the meditation on the theme, Home.

All the way my Saviour leads me, was sung and Mrs. Cox led in prayer.
Mrs. Russell conducted the business session. The minutes and correspondence were read by Mrs. Holden, the acting secretary. Mrs. Carlisle gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. D.
Heath moved that we send a donation to Quin-Mo-Lac. The motion was carried.
A group of ladies from Mount Pleasant presented a skit entitled, An exercise in futility.

Mrs. J. Pollock sang, A touch of God's hand with Mrs. H. Elliott at the piano. The regional president, Mrs. J. Bush, gave an interesting talk on stewar-ship, Is My Stewardship Showing.
With the help of posters and illustrations the ladies were shown the aims and ideals of a good steward. He or she is a responsible person, sharing with others and spreading sunshine in many quiet ways. Stewardship is not man's plan for raising money but God's plan for raising man.

Presbyterial WMS holds spring rally

On May 19, the Women's Missionary Society of the Kingston Presbyterial of the Presbyterian Church held its annual Spring Rally at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Picton. The theme was "Without Vision the People Perish".

An executive meeting was held prior to the rally at which time various business matters to be brought before the meeting were discussed.

The visitors were greeted by the Picton ladies who served coffee and cookies.

The president, Mrs. Effie Williamson of Trenton, opened the meeting with a call to worship and prayer. A group from Amherst Island conducted the morning worship service. The visiting ladies were welcomed by Mrs. Jones, wife of the minister of St. Andrews, Picton.

The minutes of last year's rally were read by the secretary, Mrs. Sheffield. It was decided to have the fall executive meeting on Wednesday, November 3, at Strathcona Park Church, Kingston; also a workshop will be held at St. Andrews, Belleville, on Oct. 30.

Reports of the Synodical meeting held recently in St. Columba Church, Belleville, were given by ch, literature secretary, told the supply. A report of a very successful children's rally held in morning session with prayer.

noon session with prayer. The roll call was taken showing over 100 members present. A solo was sung by Miss C. Mitchell accompanied by Mrs. Vandusen.

Some of the presidents of a few societies told us of some changes they had made in their groups which they found to be beneficial.
The guest speakers, Rev. and Mrs. David Murphy of St. Columbus Church, Belleville, were introduced by Mrs. Burr. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy had been missionaries in Trinidad and Guy-ana. They told of the work carried on by the Presbyterian Church in Trinidad since the first Canadian Presbyterian Missionary, his wife and small daughter, had arrived there over 100 years ago. He was Rev. John Morton from Nova Scotia. Mrs. Murphy gave an insight into the plight of the women in the earlier days but who are now becoming free. They had many lovely slides showing the people, the buildings and country of Trinidad and Guyana. Mrs. Lyons of Kingston, thanked Rev. and Mrs. Murphy for the addresses and pictures which were most informative and interesting to all.

The offering was taken and dedicated. Mrs. W. Weir reported on the Second Mile project and said there is still a need for these articles.

The ladies from Strathcona Park, Kingston, conducted the closing worship service and Rev.
D. Murphy closed with prayer.

to hold up production, body condition ... SUPPLEMENT GRASS WITH PURINA

Good grass is a benefit. Good dairymen take advantage of every acre of pasture they have. Cows love grass and it stimulates milk flow.

Yet, good dairymen know that grass is 85% water.
As summer advances it turns brown, loses its palatability and is even less nutritious.

Tests at the Purina Dairy Center proved that cows fed a grain supplement with grass produced up to 20% more milk. They kept up in body condition, too, and held up better in production in following lactations.

Visit us at the store, or give us a ring. We'd like to suggest Purina's Research-proved plan for supplementing grass to help you get more milk from your herd over the summer.

Mr. Loucks said he hoped for a large turnout of businessmen and other interested persons as plans proceed to rejuvenate Stirling's chamber.

Council seeks answer to garbage problem

The question of what the village of Stirling is to do with its garbage after the end of June, when the municipal dump has been ordered closed, has still not been resolved. But a solution may be near.

Reeve Robert Anderson told council Monday night that Douglas Cooney has proposed the establishment of a dump on his property, serving the villages of Stirling, Frankford and Batavia.

The dump would be located in an old gravel pit located about two miles east of Frankford, about 10 miles driving distance from Stirling.

Both Frankford and Batavia, whose dumps also have been condemned, have expressed an interest in Mr. Cooney's proposal, said the reeve.

Mr. Cooney would accept all of Stirling's refuse at a cost of $3,500 per year, the reeve said. It would be the municipality's responsibility to continue with collections, he said, as Mr. Cooney is not interested in getting into the garbage pickup business.

All residents of Stirling would be issued with cards which would allow them free access to the dump, in the event they wanted to take a load of garbage to the site on their own.

The reeve said Mr. Cooney's next step would be to obtain approval for his project from the township of Sidney.

Meanwhile, council authorized the replacement of the platform and hoist of the village truck used for garbage collecting. Also, it will be necessary to purchase a tarpaulin, if garbage is to be hauled to the Frankford area site.

The consensus of council was that the Frankford area site would be much superior to the Bayside site, proposed earlier. In view of the distance factor, another possibility was the establishment of a sanitary landfill site by Allan McDowell, although he has now discarded the idea, council was told.

Huntingdon, Eggleton, Wellman's Corners, Bethel, Norwood, Scarborough, Unionville, Orillia, Belleville and other points.

The overflow of people were seated in the church hall and a P.A. system carried the message.

Memorial flowers were in evidence and dark 'mums were placed by Ross Hoard in memory of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hoard, Yellow 'mums, given by the Hoard families, were in memory of Mrs. Ross Hoard.

A floral basket, in memory of Mrs. Roy Thresher, was placed in the church by her husband and her daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw.

Previous to the service, Mrs. Malcolm Sharp, organist and Miss Jeannette Hoard, pianist, provided a musical interlude.

The pastor, Rev. W. C. Cox, was in charge of the service which opened with Praise to the Lord, and the responsive reading was in praise to famous men.

The junior and senior choirs sang Praise Him, under the direction of Mrs. James Hoard. The pastor welcomed those from far and near and a special welcome to former pastor, Rev. R. R. Bonsteel of Stratford.

The offering was gathered by Grant Dunham, Fred Jeffs, Ian Hubel, David Jeffs, Donald Hubel and Kenneth Sharp.

Donations that were received and dedicated are as follows: An organ lamp from Mrs. Herbert David in memory of her husband; a guest book and stand in memory of Allan Field, who served many years as church treasurer; the Mount Pleasant Messengers donated a new church sign on the lawn and two wooden offering plates, which were used for the first time at this service. They were made by one of the Messengers members, Douglas Couch; Junior Choir gowns were donated by the United Church Women as their Centennial project; a cash donation to purchase hymnaries, in loving memory of Calvin and Sarah Williams, who were pioneers in building the Hubble Hill Episcopal Methodist Church in 1871 in memory of their son and wife Frank and Letitia Williams, who carried on the work for many years, was made by daughters Madge David and Lenora Williams.

Letters were received from Mrs. W. E. Laycock, Kingston, Mrs. Wesley McTaggart, Edmonton, Alberta and a message was read from a former pastor, Rev. Henry Vaclavik, St. Catherine's, Ont.

Miss Judy McAdam sang Bless This House with Miss Linda Potts as accompanist.

Lindsay McKeown read a brief history of Mount Pleasant United Church which was dedicated in June, 1871 as Hubble Hill Episcopal Methodist Church. The building committee was composed of Alex Fox, Anson Cummings, Elijah Johnston, Calvin Williams, Allen Field and Samuel Westcott.

The congregation was invited to the church hall where a large group of women were in charge of the catering in cafeteria style.

Mrs. Garth Joslin, president of the U.C.W. and Mrs. Margaret McMullen welcomed everyone. Seats were arranged outside on the lawn and chairs were placed in the hall to accommodate the group.

The platform was decorated with cedar bouquets, bouquets of lilacs and the lead decorated cake lettered 100 in white.

A large array of pictures of bygone days were placed on an antique table. The table also contained the book of greetings received by Rev. F. G. Joblin at the 60th anniversary and a 75th anniversary book which was the idea of Rev. T. F. Townsend.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen has been a qualified nursery school teacher for 21 years.

It is hoped that a half-day nursery school program will get under way in Stirling in September of this year. The program would be under the direction of a qualified teacher with mothers assisting each day on a rotating basis.

Anyone interested in assisting with a community project of this nature is asked to contact Mrs. Beth Staples, 85 North Street, Stirling, telephone 395-3374.

Frank Broekema, village foreman, suffered a painful injury Monday while unloading new bleachers at the Stirling ball park.

Mr. Broekema was rushed to Belleville General Hospital for treatment after he had two fingers on his left hand crushed. He was released after treatment, but has his arm in a sling.

The village has purchased four sets of 12-foot long, steel bleachers, each capable of seating 54 persons.

In 1900 the name was changed to Mount Pleasant Methodist Church and in 1925 it was changed to Mount Pleasant United Church. In 1949 the church was remodelled. Rev. H.C. Vaclavik painted a picture at the front of the church and the young family left a legacy which provided two stained glass windows. New seats were purchased to replace the original ones of 1871. A basement was dug for a Sunday School room and furnace.

During the last few years many families from Carmel and Wellman's Corners have joined the congregation. At the present time the congregation is composed of 79 families and 174 members.

The hymn, The Church's One Foundation, was sung and a former pastor, Rev. R. R. Bonsteel, of Stratford, was welcomed.

He based his message on the theme, A link with the past and a plan for the future. He paid tribute to those pioneers who built the church and to the other people who have carried on the work by year activities for 100 years.

Rev. Bonsteel said there is always willing workers and ready volunteers in any active church group and there is always work to be done if the church is to be a success.

Rev. Bonsteel said he was delighted to have the opportunity to return to his former church where he served from 1951 to 1954.

The service closed with the hymn, Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah.

MODEL OF SPACE SATELLITE

Floyd Armstrong (right), his son, Max and grandson Don, have been working on a wooden model of a communications satellite and wiring harness for Northern Electric at Armstrong Lumber since May 10. Don makes the final adjustment on the ball on the side of the model. In the actual satellite the ball, along with several others, will be filled with helium for stabilization while in orbit above the earth. The base of the model is 73 inches in diameter and there is another projection on the bottom of the base itself. The model is painted black and took a total of 120 man hours to complete.

The model was shipped from Stirling to Northern Electric's testing laboratory in Hull, Quebec, last Friday, in this dust proof lab, it will be suspended from the ceiling so that engineers can have a full scale model to look at while they construct the actual satellite.

The model has a practical purpose because the wiring for the actual satellite will be done inside the model. From here the completed circuits will be installed in the satellite.

Local firm joins space program

BY ROY LEWIS
Staff Reporter

Stirling became involved in space age technology this spring when three generations from a local business completed a scale model of a combined communications satellite and wiring harness.

Floyd Armstrong, his son, Max, and grandson, Donald, have been working on the wooden model of the satellite for Northern Electric since May 10 at Armstrong Lumber.

The Armstrongs were originally contacted by a representative of Northern Electric from Belleville. A short time later, they received the plans for the satellite.

Donald Armstrong, who has a background in drafting and engineering, studied the plans and gave the measurements to his father and grandfather who, after overcoming various cutting problems, cut the pieces for the model.

In the beginning stages of assembly no one from Northern Electric told the Armstrongs exactly what they were constructing. The company had told them only that they were building an ANIK harness assembly. Later, they were visited by an engineer from Ottawa, who explained about the satellite and went over the plans with Don to clear up a few minor problems.

The mock up weighs between 200 and 300 lbs, and stands five feet, two inches high. The measurements of the model are within 1/32 of an inch and one degree of the specifications in the plan.

The body of the model consists of a cylinder and cone between two and three feet in diameter. There are several spider-like projections from the cylinder and cone and a ball shaped object connected to one of the projections.

The ball, along with several others on the actual satellite, will be filled with helium to give it stabilization while in orbit above the earth. The base of the model is 73 inches in diameter and there is another projection on the bottom of the base itself.

The model has a practical purpose because the wiring for the actual satellite will be done inside the model. From here the completed circuits will be installed in the satellite.

The partially completed satellite will be sent to England for final completion if it proves to be satisfactory. Northern Electric is trying, however, to reach a point where their communication satellites will be constructed entirely in Canada.

After the satellite has been completed in England it will be sent to Cape Kennedy for launching into orbit.

If this particular satellite is launched, it will be the fifth in the series.

G.H. Hogle wants answers

In a letter read at Monday night's meeting of Stirling village council, G.H. Hogle complained that he had received no reply on two municipal matters - one dating back to May, 1968.

Mr. Hogle said he had requested permission three years ago to convert a building on James St., facing on Gore St., to a dwelling. To date, he still had not received a reply, he said.

Secondly, he said, he was still awaiting an answer to a request for council to enter into negotiations concerning the amount of his taxes.

Council instructed Clerk, Treasurer W.L. Pollock to reply by letter to Mr. Hogle to the effect that the question of a permit for altering the James St. building would be referred to the building inspector. As for the second item, Mr. Hogle will be told that council has no power to 'negotiate' taxes. This is a matter for the Assessment Review Court.

Mail change

Stirling boxholders have been notified that the post office is now receiving an additional incoming mail on Saturday afternoon.

The mail will be sorted to boxes by 5:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Finds old penny

While working at the demolition of the old stone mill on Front St., Stirling, one day last week, John Eaton, Stirling, discovered in the rubble an 1857 Bank of Canada Penny.

Old mill razed

The old stone mill on Front St., Stirling is just a memory. The old landmark fell victim to the wrecker's hammer, as a demolition crew razed the building last week. Great clouds of dust were produced as the thick walls came tumbling down. Village council is investigating the possibility of purchasing the property from Mrs. Pearl Tokley who has placed a price of $15,000 on the site. Council has been asked by the Chamber of Commerce to acquire the property as additional downtown parking space.

CENTENNIAL SERVICE MOUNT PLEASANT (Continued from Page 1)

1940. There were souvenir booklets on display which had been prepared in 1967.

Mrs. Herbert Smith made the anniversary cake and it was passed by Mrs. Earl Macdonald, Mrs. Leonard Sharpe, Mrs. Allen Field, and Mrs. Percy MacMillan.

Those in attendance had a wonderful time visiting with old friends and relatives and thought it a memorable day.

The church secretary, Mrs. Raymond McConnell, sent out 350 invitations and this covers all the activities which are scheduled from now till the anniversary in November.

While almost everyone had a share in the plans, there were a dozen people who probably were more active in assisting with the arrangement. Some of these not already mentioned were Mrs. Burton Sharpe, Mrs. William McAdam, Mrs. Robert H. Hoard, Mrs. Kenneth Weaver, Messrs. Robert Merrick, Stanley Williams, Raymond McConnell and Rev. and Mrs. Cox.

Other dates for special activities for the 100th anniversary are as follows: July 13, 10 o'clock, Sunday School anniversary; August 15, decoration and memorial service in the open air at 2:30 p.m.; November 11, at 11 a.m., Church Anniversary.

June 6 was a beautiful day for this commemorative event.

Cleansweep gets boost
 Through the efforts of Robert Carleton, manager of Bell Canada for Trenton and districts, the operation, Cleansweep, slated for June 12, has received a big boost.

A group of 20 students and six adults from Westwood Junior High School, Metro Toronto, will be coming down to assist the Lower Trent Authority with its clean-up day.

Last year, this group went to Maxinaw Lake and cleaned up an area which had been an eyesore to many people for quite some time. The year before, they went to some other place.

This particular group has an annual field day and this is what the members do. It is the feeling of the authority directors that this will encourage local groups to come out in force and show the Toronto people that they, the residents of the watershed, will be out to do their part.

Mop Up Your Troubles

Has life been treating you unkind? 'Till you are sore in heart and mind?

Sit down, relax, and just unwind. Unwind the strings that bind your heart.

And let yourself come all apart. Before attempting a new start.

Then, looking back in future years You'll find you've mopped up all your fears.

With cool, refreshing, soothing tears.

Couple wed 25 years ago

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cooke celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on May 22 by attending graduation exercises in Kingston when their oldest son, David, received his Bachelor of Education degree from McArthur College.

On May 29th Dan and Olive were honored by a large number of relatives and neighbours to a surprise party at their home to further celebrate the anniversary occasion.

Mr. MacFarlane was chairman for a program which started with a singing led by Mrs. Francis Thompson with Mrs. Lindsay Sills at the piano. Readings were given by Mrs. Ted Pollock, Mrs. Bruce Stapley and Mrs. Francis Thompson. Debra Thompson and Douglas Cooke each contributed piano solos. Larry Lakus played music on guitar and mouth organ.

Janet and Debra Thompson sang a duet with their mother as accompanist. Mrs. Russell Sills read an address and MacFarlane made the presentation of a beautiful 400 day clock, suitably engraved from the West Huntingdon neighbours. A gift of money and lovely individual gifts were presented by Dan and Olive's brothers and sisters and their families. Lunch was served which was a delicious and hearty cake provided by Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane.

Dan Cooke of West Huntingdon and Olive Rose of Belleville were married May 22, 1946 in Gilead United Church by the Rev. J.H. Trumpp.

Their attendants of 25 years ago, Mrs. Raymond Cooke of Kingston, Earl Ross of Corbyville, Mrs. Ronald Badgley, Shannonville and Harold Ross, Unionville, Michigan were present for the occasion.

Dan and Olive have four sons, David, Alan, Ivan and Douglas.

Orange Lodge plans project

Stirling is one of the communities under consideration as the location of a 70-unit senior citizens residence to be built under the auspices of the Orange Association of Ontario East.

Bernard Hollinger of Foxboro, the project chairman, said the large apartment unit will be built somewhere in Eastern Ontario at a cost of about $1 million.

The first donation toward the building fund came from Orangeville in Smith's Falls, in the amount of $600.

Mr. Hollinger said that a standard rent would be charged, which would not be based on income, as is the case with government operated units.

HOW TO PREVENT BICYCLE ACCIDENTS

Bicycle accidents can be prevented. Here are some tips from the Ontario Department of Transport. Make sure the bike fits the child. A youngster on a bike too big for him is five times as likely to be involved in a collision as one on a bike of the proper size. The ball of his foot should reach the ground comfortably from a seated position. Make sure your child's bike is in safe mechanical condition. Nuts should be tightened, moving parts lubricated. For after dark driving, the bike must have a front light and a red reflector or light on the rear, plus reflective tape, red on the rear fender, white on the front forks.

Farmers average about $1.57 per hour for their labors in 1969 and the average investment for a farm to support a family of four is $200,000 in land, buildings and machinery.

Hydro forester speaks at Tweed

TWEED -- A capacity crowd was on hand Thursday afternoon at the Odd Fellows Hall here when officials of Ontario Hydro held a meeting to brief municipal representatives and other concerned people on methods used by Hydro in the field of vegetation control.

The speaker for the meeting was Robin Gardener, district forester with Ontario Hydro, responsible for the control of woody and herbaceous plants.

By means of a talk, illustrated by colored slides, Mr. Gardener gave a detailed explanation of procedures followed by Hydro in its vegetation control program.

With 20,000 miles of transmission lines and 50,000 miles of distribution lines, control of vegetation in the immediate area of these lines is of vital concern to Ontario Hydro, he said.

From 22 persons in the forestry department at the time of its formation in 1930, he told the gathering, Ontario Hydro now employs 500 persons in this department.

Hydro has progressed from the era of the axe and saw (a costly method of controlling vegetation) to the use of chemicals, he said. The chemicals 24D and 245T were mentioned as commonly used in the control of brush.

Stressing the importance given to the safe use of these chemicals, Mr. Gardener said Ontario Hydro uses herbicides on the basis of tests conducted by the Federation of Agriculture, the Herbicides Committee of Ontario and its own research department. Chemicals are never used in higher concentration than recommended by these agencies, and often in lower concentration.

To show Hydro's philosophy in the area of conservation, Mr. Gardener said that the utility uses selective cutting in the development of new rights of way for transmission and distribution lines, and takes the same attitude toward existing rights of way. Previously, all vegetation was removed in the development of Hydro rights of way, but in the future, a more enlightened approach can be expected, he said.

Area municipalities sent representatives to the meeting as despite rising costs, food still remains a good buy for consumers. Modern farming practices make this possible.

J.M. Cousins will retire

J. M. Cousins, associate superintendent with the Hastings county board of education, will retire at the end of December, 1971, after 40 years of teaching in Hastings county.

A superintendent with the Belleville Public School Board until formation of the county board in 1969, Mr. Cousins began his teaching career here in 1931. He served overseas as a lieutenant - colonel in the Royal Canadian Artillery from 1940 to 1946.

In 1950 he became a principal and in 1959 an inspector. In accepting Mr. Cousins' resignation, chairman Donald Williams remarked that "nobody can go out to a rural area and get along with all the people the way he can."

Mr. Williams added that Mr.

NIGHT PROWLERS

Butterflies and moths linger at night. 'Round the city's tall, shiny lights. Without a noise they flutter about, Not a peep, not a sound much less a shout. You'd never know that they were there. But if you saw them, you'd stop and stare. The only whisper that can be heard Is the fluttering of their wings, Which you'd think was bird's. Butterflies and moths prowl at night, Round the city's tall, shiny lights.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN
Toronto Telegram Syndicate

Danny has been here before, but you may not recognize him. He used to be really chubby and his hair was fairer. He was very appealing as a younger child and he is still appealing — perhaps even more so now at age 10.

Danny is still waiting for a home of his own and for the very special parents who will want him and love him. Anglo-Saxon in descent, this engaging youngster has laughing blue eyes, blonde hair and fair skin. He has been diagnosed as a dwarf and has the characteristics of that condition — legs and arms shorter than average.

Danny knows he is a dwarf and likes the attention he gets. He is an active, cheerful boy with an impish grin to match his outgoing personality. He is no scholar but he thoroughly enjoys school, mainly because of the fun that's available there. He is popular with his classmates.

Danny has been accustomed to going to a cottage with his foster family and he loves the casual, easy life. Swimming is his favorite sport.

Danny will be a happy addition for a family who will appreciate his winning disposition and not expect academic excellence. To inquire about adopting Danny, please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

Today it's time for a short refresher course in the art of saving money while shopping. Shopping, for those husbands unfamiliar with the task, is an easy job. It takes much determination to avoid the many enticing impulse purchases appealingly displayed on the store shelves.

As I've said before, it all starts with a plan. Always prepare a shopping list and discipline yourself into sticking to it. Buy only what you really need and want — those items on the list. Nothing wrecks a family budget faster than emotional impulse buying.

But before I create the wrong impression, your list must be somewhat flexible. That is, one item which happens to be on sale can certainly be substituted for another. You must be careful to avoid adding to the list, but should be flexible enough to substitute one type of product for another.

I'm still amazed that half of today's grocery shoppers and nearly three-quarters of bakery buyers shop without a list. It's a group that must be avoided if you want to maintain a sensible spending plan and save money.

In preparing your list, learn the art of comparative shopping. Use the newspapers to find out what's being offered on special sale and plan your list and itinerary accordingly. Different grocery stores can vary as much as 15% or more in the prices they charge on brand name merchandise. Be a comparative shopper.

Finally, keep records of major purchases to better plan for future purchases. It helps you to keep from making the same mistake twice.

In any case — it's a good idea to keep all paperwork for at least a few months in case you have trouble with the product or billing.

There would be 176 round ten lb. cheese containers and four square blocks of cheese when they were finished. The group was shown the various rooms and the storeroom held a large array of cheese in various sizes. At the close of the

Unit pricing comes to IGA

Unit pricing, which gives price per weight or measure as well as price per item, was introduced last week on 8,500 items in 138 IGA food markets in Central Ontario. Called Check-A-Unit pricing, the system enables shoppers to compare prices without resorting to a slide-rule to determine best value, according to Vern Barber, Vice-President and General Manager of Oshawa Wholesale Limited's Ontario Food Division which supplies IGA.

IGA is the second food organization in Canada to offer this customers unit pricing. Oshawa first introduced the system several weeks ago in its 31 Food City markets.

"Consumer response was entirely favorable," Mr. Barber said. "Accordingly, we decided to extend the program to all of the IGA markets which we supply."

Check-A-Unit price tags greatly assist the consumer who has to watch her pennies. Mr. Barber explained. Without them, shoppers find it virtually impossible to determine the brand or package that is least expensive, particularly when the same product comes in a variety of sizes and packages.

"This program is not designed to help determine a consumer's choice of brand. That's her decision. We are simply providing her with information which will enable her to make an informed choice," Mr. Barber said.

Many consumers believe that the largest sizes always represent the best values. This isn't necessarily true and Check-A-Unit tags prove it, he continued.

Consumer organizations and government agencies have long advocated unit pricing but food chains have claimed it would add to the cost of operations and the cost of food. Mr. Barber states emphatically that this is not so.

"Computer programming at Oshawa has achieved a degree of sophistication that made introduction of the program relatively simple and without appreciable cost."

CENTENNIAL REPORT

A report by Thom Reynolds from Centennial Secondary School, Palmer Road, Belleville.

Sandra LaChapelle of Stirling, a Grade 11 student at Centennial, returned home Sunday after attending a three day seminar on pollution which commenced on Thursday, June 3. Sandra was chosen in early May by the Student Council to represent the school. The seminar was a youth conference held at Laurentian University in Sudbury to discuss pollution and other environmental problems with Canadian conservationists and naturalists.

On Friday and Saturday five boys from the school participated in the all-Ontario track and field meet held at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds in Toronto. Tom Bryant from Stirling was a member of the mid-get 4 by 100 relay team which had their best time of the year and set a new school record of 48.1 seconds. They failed to make the finals for they placed 7th and only the top six teams were taken. Other team members were Don Johnson, Gary Hiltz, and Dale Best. Centennial's senior pole vaulter, Pierre Salsols put forth a good effort but had difficulty at the 12 foot level.

With tomorrow being the last day of school for this year, this will be my last Centennial Report until next September. Examinations for those students who were not exempted will begin on Friday and run to Wednesday of next week.

Twenty-one teachers and vice-principal Dave Bell, will be leaving the school to take other positions or four Europe, as one French teacher is planning to go, or to stay home and keep house. Due to ill health Mrs. Phillis Camm, an English teacher from Stirling, will not be returning to CSS in September. There will be six new teachers coming to Centennial, giving the school a staff of 78. Student population is expected to drop from 1450 to 1200 in September.

Centennial is the top school in the district for Department promotions with five newly named Department Heads and one Assistant Department Head, all leaving the school. Four of these will be accepting Department Head positions at Centre Hastings Secondary School in Madoc.

I would like to thank the administrative staff of Centennial, teachers, and Stirling students for their co-operation and resourcefulness. Enjoy the holidays!

Snowmobiling in the Alps

In March, 1971, the Cardiff Sno-Snoopers Snowmobile Club was represented at the World's First Snofari in Interlaken, Switzerland. Included in the Snofari were club president, Fred Palmer, formerly of Stirling, and three other members of the Cardiff Sno-Snoopers.

A direct flight from Montreal to Zurich delivered them to Switzerland for ten days of snowmobiling on some of the most beautiful terrain imaginable. Snow conditions in the Alps were excellent with the temperature in the high sixties and 10 days of high sun. Due to the high altitude and continuous sun, many of the 42 people present snowmobiled with their shirts off. Comparing our snowmobiling area to that of the Alps is virtually impossible. The rolling foothills, lack of underbrush and lakes, and other obstructions, and a view actually hundreds of miles, allow for many hours of snowmobiling with a feeling of freedom found only in an area such as the Alps. It was possible to stand in one spot and watch a machine drive away without losing sight of it until it became no larger than a pinpoint many miles away.

Interlaken, primarily a summer vacation area, was blessed with sunny warm weather already producing flowers and green grass. A 30 minute drive by car would place you in the snow covered mountains where thousands of skiers were enjoying the many ski runs and scenic lifts. Due to the hospitality of the people of Interlaken and their willingness to have more snowmobilers enjoy their magnificent Alps and beautiful accommodations, plans are already being made for next year for the second World Snofari at Interlaken, Switzerland.

Community club meets

On May 26 the third meeting of the Stirling Community Club was held at the residence of Doug Murray.

The meeting was opened with the 4-H pledge led by Linn Thain. Roll Call was taken by Ken Sharp. At this meeting Monica Albes from Picton, spoke to the members about the urban-rural exchange program which will take place this summer. She also gave each member a sheet of information to take home and look over.

Another guest, Harold Chambers, demonstrated to the members how to make rope halters for calves. Some members found the task difficult but with Mr. Chambers assistance they were able to make the halters.

Mr. Chambers was thanked for his assistance and the meeting was closed followed by lunch.

Volunteer Auxiliary holds meeting

The second meeting of The Volunteer Stirling Auxiliary was held in the council chambers on June 2. Plans were made to serve tea Wednesday, June 16 from two to four, at both the Edward Street Manor and the Stirling Towers during "Nursing Home Week."

A "Come As You Are" coffee party and White Elephant Sale are scheduled for the last week in June.

"There is a great need for additional volunteers to assist in taking patients for walks during the summer months," said Mrs. J. Boughen, chairman. "Anyone wishing to supply music at any time will be much appreciated."

GOOD TIDINGS WMC HOLDS MEETING

The Women's Missionary Council of Stirling's Good Tidings Pentecostal Church met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Lee Smith. The president, Mrs. Helen Donnan, opened the meeting, recalling how human Peter was, but as he walked with Jesus and listened to His teaching, his strength increased and he became a good disciple of Christ. People can do the same today, she said.

Prayer time followed with Mrs. Mary Grills and Mrs. Alma Donnan, and Mrs. Helen Donnan remembering those who are sick and in the assembly, also missionaries at home and abroad.

Mrs. Beverly Palmer brought the devotional message, speaking on women worshipping and serving God by witnessing, working and praying, with several ladies reading scriptures to prove this is their task for Him. Readings were given by Mrs. Ruth McCorty and Mrs. Rhea Flint.

A time of business was held. A letter was read from Rev. and Mrs. Cal Ratz of Kenya by Mrs. Hope MacDonald.

Mrs. Alma Donnan read a chapter of the Biography of Ken McGilvary, known as Pastor Wheat,

TO THE SUPPORTERS OF

THE HASTINGS COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

We have examined the Revenue Fund and Capital Fund Balance Sheets of The Hastings County Board of Education as at December 31, 1970, and the Revenue Fund Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Statement of Source and Application of Capital Funds for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Board as at December 31, 1970, and the results of its operations and the source and application of its capital funds for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario School Boards applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Trent River yields 40 tons of litter

More than 300 volunteers, 40 trucks and as many boats, removed an estimated 40 tons of debris from the banks and shoreline of the Trent River in Operation Cleave Sweep on Saturday.

It was the second annual cleanup of the popular fresh water route, under the sponsorship of the Lower Region Conservation Authority. The operation covered the stretch between the village of Hastings and the Bay of Quinte at Trenton.

In the Stirling area, Sidney township reeve Jack Bush named a truck on the edge of his Trent River property near Glen Ross. Several members of his family used a boat to comb the banks of the river for refuse.

Late Saturday night, project chairman C.G. Macdonald of Murray township, reported the operation had accomplished the removal of 1,300 garbage bags of litter.

"The volume was smaller than the first year of the undertaking and is evidence our effort is paying off," he said. "The less there is to pick up, the better our message is getting across."

Communications, which played a major role in the success of the operation, were handled by Quinte region emergency measures officer Angus B. Duffy and his assistants. The Piston Pushers motorcycle club acted as dispatch riders between points.

Operation Cleave Sweep was coordinated from the Oak Hills Flying Club which had three airplanes participating in the project.

Couple married 40 years ago

At the Sun Luck Gardens, Belleville, June 10 a dinner party was hosted by Carolyn and Paul Rollins in honor of the 40th wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rollins, Stirling.

At the conclusion of the dinner Mrs. Rollins cut and served a large cake suitably decorated after which the party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rollins.

Many congratulations were received as well as gifts, one being a money bouquet from the immediate family.

Wrinkleless living lauded

Well, just how does Kate Donohoe do it? She has been having birthdays for an estimated 70 years and still looks young. Her daughter-in-law, Marie Donohoe and her two granddaughters, Judy and Jean surprised her on Thursday at Senior Citizens by serving a beautiful lunch including a great big lighted cake. It was so big it looked like a load of hay on fire. Although taken by surprise, Kate had words of thanks for it all. Keep on smiling Kate and we all wish you many more years of wrinkleless living.

The progressive euche winners for the (Hers) were Kate Donohoe, Annie Faulkner and Lill Heasman. For the (He's) it was John Kane, Edna Sharpe and Murn Stapley. Just how Edna Sharpe got mixed in as a man, I'll never know.

Be sure to reserve June 24 for our basket pot luck picnic at Island Park. We leave the club room at 1:30 and rides will be there.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY PROJECT

An annual spring project of the Stirling Horticultural Society is the cultivation and improvement of parks and other

New Stirling school gets green light

The Ontario Department of Education has approved plans for a new senior elementary school to be built on recently acquired property south of St. James Street in Stirling, Donald R. Williams, chairman of the Hastings county board of education, announced Tuesday.

The board will proceed to engage an architect within the next two or three weeks and it is hoped that construction will start this fall, he said. Target completion date for the new school is September, 1972.

The school will be built on a 35-acre site purchased from Cosmos Imperial Mills, Hamilton, at a cost of $30,000.

At the same time the board of education decided on plans for the new senior school, it approved in principle the establishment of a secondary school in the same complex. Tentative completion date for the secondary school is September, 1974.

Tentative approval by the county board of education of the secondary school phase was required because, in planning for the senior elementary school, the heating system, gymnasium, library, shops and offices were to become part of an overall complex.

The provincial educational authorities also have given the county board the green light to proceed with the erection of a new school for retarded children at Avondale and a senior elementary addition to Frankford Public School.

Stirling pupils trip

EDITOR'S NOTE -- The following is a story about a class trip to Rockwood, in the words of one of the pupils.

BY DENISE JACKSON

When our class, Portable 1, went to Rockwood, it took three and a half hours to get there. We stopped once to get a drink and go to the washroom.

Most of the way, we took the 401. We finally got to Rockwood. Everyone was excited.

While introducing the pen pals, Mr. (Glenn) Bennett had every one from Port. 1 and Mrs. (S.) Robin's class get in a large circle. As he threw a ball to different pupils, they called out their names and their pen pal came to meet them.

We played around for a while. Then we had our dinner in their room.

After that, two buses took us to the Rocio African Lion Safari Farm. We saw many monkeys and lions. We also saw the zebras truck feeding the lions.

The lions eat cow heads. Some people took some very good pictures. The monkeys were in the trees. Some jumped on the buses, all over the place.

Then we went to the souvenir shop. We could buy anything we wanted if we had enough money.

Afterward, we went to the restaurant and had something to eat. After that, we went to Pet's Corner and saw llamas, rabbits, monkeys, raccoons, a cow, mountain goats and a hen.

When we got back, six girls helped us cook our wieners. We ate, then we played and went home with our pen pals. John's pen pal had a tame box constriktor and a lizard which would grow as big as a man.

In the morning, we went to the caves. To get there, we had to climb up and down steep cliffs. Some got lost, but found some larger caves with allactites.

We all saw many fossils and the ruins of an old mill built in 1867. When we went in the caves, we went in a little hole, then the cave got big.

Then we had to hurry back and catch our bus. Saying goodbye to our pen pals was the saddest part. Then we were on our way back home.

Why spreading mostly a dream

A Stirling area cheese factory operator told the News-Argus yesterday the proposal by a Toronto firm to solve the problem of area cheese factories by establishing a waste control site for why is unrealistic.

Ernest Reid, owner of the Evergreen and Shamrock cheese factories, described the plan put forward last week by Nuelarus Ltd. as "mostly a dream."

"It would never work here," said Mr. Reid. "It would be too costly."

The local cheese producer said it would cost him $100 a day to transport the whey from his factories to the proposed 500-acre waste control site.

Nuelarus engineers announced recently they had optioned an unidentified site within 15 miles of Belleville. The company has spent in the neighborhood of $100,000 for research and development and, if it gets the go-ahead to start operations, the price tag will jump to a quarter of a million dollars.

Mr. Reid said the firm's plan to soak 500 acres of land with whey is similar to Evergreen's present disposal method, except that the latter uses the lagoon system.

At one time, farmers sent milk to the cheese factories and received whey when their milk cans were returned. This liquid was then fed to hogs.

However, the health department clamped down on this practice, claiming it unsanitary when whey was returned in milk cans. The factories were then forced to dump the by-product in convenient fields, ponds and water courses.

In some cases, disposal of whey did not meet with pollution controls laid down by the Ontario Water Resources Commission and the factories recently were given the option of cleaning up facing the consequences of the anti-pollution laws.

In addition to Nuelarus' plan to eliminate the danger of OWRC rulings forcing the shutdown of more area cheese factories, the firm hopes to provide premium grating for beef cattle, make possible market gardening in the dead of winter, provide lawn sod and produce eels.

Businessman dies suddenly

Orrie T. Seeley, proprietor of Stirling Welding and Radiator Repair Shop, North St., died suddenly Tuesday evening in his apartment above the shop. Resuscitation administered by Stirling firemen failed to revive him after he collapsed.

Farmer loses seven cows

Five milking cows were killed and another two had to be destroyed after they were struck by lightning during a severe electric storm which struck Stirling and surrounding areas Saturday night.

The dead cows, from the herd of Raymond Cooney, R.R. #1, Stirling, were found Sunday morning lying in the middle of an open field. Four other cows were struck by lightning and a veterinarian decided that two of them would have to be destroyed.

It is expected the remaining two animals will recover. The storm knocked out an Ontario Hydro transformer on Church St. at the Campbell Road, leaving many residents in the immediate area without electric power. Fuses blew in several of the residences in the interrupted area.

There were other reports of television antennas being struck.

An Ontario Hydro spokesman said there was no serious damage to Hydro installations.

Stirling Community Centre committee at a cost of approximately $1,600. They are capable of seating 216 people.

Six new dorms for boys' school

Russell D. Rowe, Member of the Legislature for Northumberland, has been advised by the Honourable James A.C. Auld, Minister of Public Works, and the Honourable Syl Apps, Minister of Correctional Services, that tenders will be called within the next week for construction of six new dormitories at the Brookside School for Boys, Cobourg, at an estimated cost of $1,125,000. The project is located at the north-east intersection of Highway No. 2 (King Street) and Cottesmore Avenue, on the existing school site in the Township of Cobourg and Hamilton, County of Northumberland.

Mr. Auld said that the new dormitories, all similarly designed by Public Works staff, will provide sleeping, dining and day-time activity areas for 120 resident boys. 20 in each of the six units. Each dormitory will have 15 single bedrooms and one large 5-bed room, all equipped with desks for studying. The recreation room will provide facilities for arts and crafts, ping-pong, etc.

Specifications call for the dormitories to be split level, with partial basement forming the recreation area, and construction of load bearing and insulated exterior masonry walls, with painted interior masonry partitions. Floors are to be slab on grade except for the split level area where wood will be used.

Stirling Boy Scouts attend Camporee

The Scout Camporee was held in Marmora with groups from Marmora, Bonarlaw, Stirling, Land Of Lakes and Plainfield in attendance. There was also a Service Team, the first Stirling Venturers.

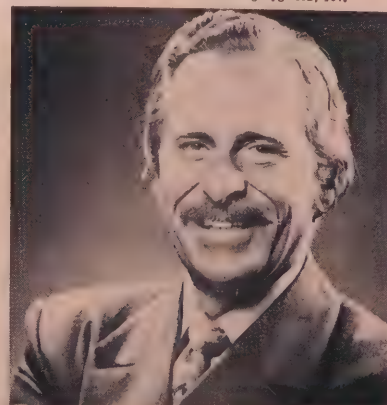

Scouter Don Leonard had his collection of guns and rifles, etc. sent up and he gave the boys a talk on "Gun Safety". He also demonstrated the mechanism of the various fire arms he had.

Scouter Arnold Fleisher handled the "first-aid" program complete with simulated injuries. Saturday night there was no campfire, as there was a high wind, so the boys were taken out to look over the Marmora Iron Mine.

Sunday morning, eight Roman Catholic boys attended Mass. At camp, the "Scout's Own" service was conducted by Don Marchan, D.C.

The scouts participated in a tug of war and an obstacle race put on by the Service Team. The obstacle race was a mile long and the Bonarlaw troupe came out on top. They also took first place in the tug of war.

The score for the trophy were as follows: Plainfield, Musketeers, 129; Bonarlaw, 125; Plainfield, Skyhawks, 124; Marmora, 118; Land O'Lakes No. 2, 113; Land O'Lakes, No. 1, 112; and Stirling Pygmies, 107.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate

It's a wonder Philip could be coaxed off his bike long enough to have his picture taken because this young lad is an ardent cyclist. Philip is seven, a slim youngster with wavy brown hair, dark eyes and fair skin. His background is Anglo-Saxon.

Philip is in good health and loves playing outdoors. While it was cold, he kept busy with his Christmas skates. Now he's looking forward to learning to swim.

Some years ago, Philip had an operation for a turned-in eye. His eyes look normal now, but he still has to wear corrective glasses. He enjoys school, where he is in Grade 2. He works hard and has a good average standing.

Philip likes people and gets on well with children his own age or younger. He would like to be "big brother" to one or two little ones.

This lad will be a rewarding addition to a warm-hearted, easygoing family. To inquire about adopting Philip, please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

Peace Park rededication

"Peace is for everyone" is the theme of the 5th Annual rededication of the Lester B. Pearson Peace Park, on Highway No. 7 near Tweed, on Sunday July 4 at 3:00 p.m.

In keeping with this theme and because of the non-political nature of the park, all political parties have been invited to send representatives to share in the rededication to peace, followed by a family picnic in the park (bring your own basket, tea and coffee will be provided), and all have responded.

The Legion branches of Madoc and Tweed are being invited with their Ladies Auxiliaries, to provide color parties for the Annual Journal of Remembrance, together with other branches of District #1, from the rendezvous place at the Madoc Legion Centre to the Peace Pagoda Shrine on the hillside where the annual rededication will take place.

Rev. (Capt.) J.H. Thompson, St. John's Anglican Church, Madoc, assisted by other ministers of the area, is in charge of the rededication service. A feature of the service will be the dedication of the site for the Mother's Shrine, on behalf of all mothers who have lost sons in past wars.

by Margaret Brookfield

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

Think Twice

Dear Margaret Brookfield: I went through surgical menopause almost five years ago. Suddenly and unexpectedly, with no warning symptoms, I had to have a hysterectomy. I was 43 years old at the time and the experience was quite traumatic. Soon afterwards, my personality had changed somewhat. I found my husband and I were no longer compatible. We didn't seem to have any communication that made sense, it's as if I woke up and found my marriage was a bad dream. I don't seem to have any love for my husband now. His presence is enough to upset me. No matter how I try, I can't seem to feel anything for him anymore. I try to look back (we've been married 15 years but I know him for about 20) to see what attracted me to him in the first place, and I can't seem to find one thing. I must explain that our marriage was never very romantic or ideally happy, but I was always able to cope with it somehow. Now I'm contemplating separation. What do you think I should do?

P.S., Lindenhurst, N.Y.

A hysterectomy which brings about surgical menopause—can be traumatic for any woman, it can make her apprehensive about losing her sexual identity and attractiveness. It can make her doubtful about her ability to respond as a wife. It can even make her believe her sex life must be over and done with. Doctors say none of these need be true. After surgery, they often prescribe estrogen replacement therapy to help restore the body's hormonal balance, while recognizing at the same time that the relationship between husband and wife requires its own attention. For example, Dr. Herbert Marbach, gynecology professor at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, says that "where the relationship is exemplary, gynecological illness does not disturb, but rather alters an otherwise normal relationship." He adds: "In mature patients, it is most comforting to find that the husband is also very mature and understanding. Marriage, after all, does involve two people sharing their problems as well as their pleasures. In your own case, you've been so involved with your own reactions you've said nothing about how your husband feels. Has he tried to play a supporting role? Has he been thrown by it himself? What have you done to help each other? You married him after knowing him a long time and you have many years together, so think twice before throwing it all away."

Historical plaque will honor Deseronto

On Saturday, June 19, at 2:00 p.m., an historical plaque commemorating the founding of Deseronto will be unveiled in Centennial Park, Deseronto, located between Main Street and the Bay of Quinte waterfront.

The unveiling ceremony is one of a variety of events scheduled to take place in Deseronto during three days of special activities, commencing Thursday, June 17, to celebrate the Centennial of the community's incorporation as a Village.

This plaque is one of a series being erected throughout the province by the Ontario Department of Public Records and Archives, acting on the advice of the Archaeological and Historic Sites Board of Ontario.

Saturday's ceremony is being sponsored by the Corporation of the Town of Deseronto and arranged by a committee of local citizens approved by Council. Rev. C. M. Snoeren, M.H.M., St. Vincent de Paul Church, Deseronto, will serve as program chairman. Among those who have been invited to take part are: His Worship J. W. Sharpe, Mayor of Deseronto; George Lyons, Reeve of Deseronto; K. Smith, Warden of Hastings County; Clarke T. Rollins, M.L.A. (Hastings); Lee Grills, M.P. (Hastings); Dr. E. S. ## Chatterton WI

On Wednesday the twelve members of the Chatterton W.I. toured the Elaine Footwear factory. The women were divided into small groups and taken through all the parts of the factory.

They were shown and given explanations of the making of shoes from the rolls of leather to the finished shoes in the boxes ready to be shipped. It was an interesting and educational experience, and everyone enjoyed the tour.

After leaving the factory everyone motored to the home of Mrs. Lorne Reid. Here a short business meeting was conducted by the president who opened in the usual way and conducted the roll call, which was a synthetic material and my opinion of it.

Some reports were given on standing committees. Thankyou notes were read. The hostess and her assistants served lunch.

RULER OF BEAUTY

The Ruler of Beauty both flutters and flies. She sweeps the clear, cloudless skies.

Any colour she can be, The only creature that fascinates me.

Both fearless and bold she drifts around, With secret, real beauty, yet to be found.

Who is she, now just take a guess.....

Of course the butterfly, a fine mistress.

Farmers Union discusses action

Meetings of National Farmers Union officers and committee representatives over the past weekend discussed the possibilities of a farm holding action, which has been strongly proposed by local and district organizations in Ontario.
It was agreed the previously called for date of June 24th, to commence the action, be withdrawn until a meeting of the National executive can be held sometime during the next two weeks.
Blake Sanford, N.F.U. Regional Coordinator for Ontario, said the plan for action was developed at the meetings which will be presented to the executive meeting.
He said there has never been any doubt in the minds of leaders here for the justification of action, in view of the desperate financial straits farmers are being forced to face. However, he said, time must be allowed for co-ordination and a plan of strategy for specific commodities that would provide the best long-term results for farmers.
"In the meantime," he said, "N.F.U. locals and districts are challenged to mobilize and build up strength in preparedness."

Vanderwater site gets grant

The provincial government has approved a grant of $4,200 to the Molra River Conservation Authority for general development work at the Col. Vanderwater Conservation Area at Thomashurst.
An authority official said that approximately $7,000 will be spent for general development at the popular picnic site and conservation area.
Included will be improvement of picnic areas and campsites together with extension of the access road by approximately one mile to the south.
A picnic shelter, 20 x 40 feet has already been erected at the Vanderwater area, but not all work on the access road extension will be carried out this year.

Jehovah's Witnesses plan assembly

Montreal's Blue Bonnets Raceway will be the site of a five-day district assembly of Jehovah's witnesses, July 14-18, to be supported by local witnesses. It is one of eleven "Divine Name" assemblies of the group to be held in Canada during July and August.
Commenting on the theme "Divine Name", Walton Lister, presiding minister of the Stirling congregation of Jehovah's witnesses said, "It is in keeping with our belief that we are living at the time when God's kingdom will fulfill the Word of man's Creator, Jehovah, by destroying those who practice wickedness and then making this earth a paradise."

Among the many things to be considered during the convention will be practical information from the Holy Bible on how to cope with the problems of life,
two fascinating Bible dramas, material to help one to get a clear understanding of the drug problem and how to view it, excellent information on the training of children, and other helpful information to improve family life.
The main address of the assembly will be delivered on Sunday afternoon and particularly designed for the public is entitled:
"When All Nations Collide, Head
On, with God."

The July meeting will be held on the evening of the 14th when the Messenger group will provide the program and the UCW the lunch. Also two articles will be presented for the fish pond and two recipes for the cook book. There will be no meeting in August.

St. Andrew's group meets

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Women were entertained at the home of Mrs. James Johnston for their meeting on Thursday, June 10.

Mrs. Roy Eggleton, acting president for June, welcomed everyone and read the poem, June. The roll call, a Bible verse with the word Flower, was answered by 17 ladies, this being the theme of the meeting.

The secretary, Mrs. K. Tompkins, read the minutes and correspondence.

Mrs. E. Fox, Mrs. R. Taylor and Mrs. S. McIntosh reported visiting during the past month. It was suggested that everyone join in the visiting for the holiday months.

Miss Gena Spry gave a very favorable financial report. A substantial sum is to be forwarded for assistance to the Board of Managers.

Mrs. K. Ray reported on purchasing of new choirgowns which are expected to be available by mid-summer.

Mrs. C. Tummon and Mrs. R. Eggleton were appointed to assist on a committee with West Haddington, to prepare for the luncheon in connection with the ordination and induction taking place at the church on June 23.

Mrs. Taylor voiced appreciation on behalf of herself and Mr. Taylor for the many kindnesses given to them by the people of the church.

The supply money was ordered to be forwarded and Mrs. C. Montgomery and Mrs. K. Tompkins consented to convert the white shirts on hand into hospital gowns for supply work.

The offering was gathered by Mrs. J. Johnston and dedicated by Mrs. Eggleton.

The devotional part began with singing the hymn, All things bright and beautiful, with Mrs. G. Mathews as musician. Mrs.

D. Fargy read Psalm 104: 14-35 and gave a meditation on this scripture passage. She stressed God's providence, protection and concern for everything on earth; also that we must do our part, sharing God's good and glory.

Mrs. R. Eggleton gave some short excerpts on flowers, gardens, trees and birds. She mentioned flowers, common to certain countries, poems written on them and the beauty given by them; how certain flowers are favourites as the rose to gardeners and poets; sweet clover blossom to the bees; the significance of the scarlet poppy in the First World War when the song, In Flanders Field, was composed. Mrs. Eggleton also mentioned a number of flowers grown in the sea.

Mrs. K. Tompkins rendered a solo, Sing me a song of Sharon's Rose.

Mrs. C. Tummon read an article about Evangel Hall, the motto to there being, Life is fragile, handle with prayer. Situations coming to the front there are: care of families, medical care, handling of mental upsets and striving to fill spiritual needs.

Mrs. K. Ray gave a brief on flowers in a different light consisting of: how many flowers and herbs are mentioned in the Bible; mostly wild flowers being emblems of Canadian provinces; and the etiquette of flowers - welcome anytime.

Mrs. Ray read a poem, Afternoons to a Hill, suggesting not picking wild flowers. At this time she emphasized the non-picking of wild flowers, since so many are becoming very rare.

Mrs. Eggleton thanked everyone for their assistance and the meeting closed with the repeating of the Mizpah Benediction.

Refreshments were served, for which Mrs. K. Tompkins voiced thanks.

MARKS 90th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. S.J. Elliott honored on occasion of 90th birthday

Over 250 people attended open house at the IOOF Hall on Sunday, June 20 in honor of Mrs. S.J. (Glady) Elliott, on the occasion of her 90th birthday.

The hall was gaily decorated with pink, blue and white bunting and streamers, and baskets of flowers. Greeting the guests were her daughter, Mrs. Harry Morrow and sister, Mrs. C.B. Allin. Tea room hostesses were Mrs.

R.A. Patterson, Miss Evelyn Bailey, Mrs. Ray Shortt and Mrs. Leslie Thompson. Servers were Mrs. Ailyn Warren and Mrs. Glen Flout, two granddaughters, and Mrs. Don Gamblin and Mrs. Ralph Middleton, two nieces.

Pouers for the afternoon and evening were Mrs. Thomas Elliott, Mrs. Simon Elliott, Mrs. Clifford Elliott, Mrs. Fred Elliott, Mrs. Wade Sharp, Mrs. M. Hutcheon, Mrs. Clarence Allin, Mrs. J. Middleton, Mrs. R.B. Duffin, Miss Gena Spry, Mrs. J.L. Good, and Mrs. J.S. Whitehead.

Born at Bear River, near Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia on June 20, 1881, Mrs. Elliott was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Weir. She was the second oldest in a family of eight. The only other living member of the family is a sister, Mrs. C.B. (Winnie) Allin of Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia.

Easter Seals report given

Dick Smith, treasurer of the Stirling Rotary Club, reported that a total of $2,861.69 was raised in this year's Easter Seal campaign conducted locally.

Almost two-thirds of the proceeds ($1,851.04) was raised through a walkathon organized by the club, in co-operation with the Stirling schools.

Guest speaker at last week's meeting of Rotary was Miss Sandra LaChapelle who spoke on pollution problems and the consequences.

On March 25, 1925 she married the late Samuel J. Elliott at Annapolis Royal, following their marriage, they moved to Ontario where they owned and operated a general store and Post Office at Sine, for 26 years. For the past 20 years, Mrs. Elliott has been a resident of Stirling. Mrs. Elliott received many birthday greetings, among which were a birthday telegram from Prime Minister Trudeau, a framed plaque from the Premier of Ontario, William Davis, and congratulatory letters from Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Rollins, M.P., George Hees, M.P., and Robert Stanfield, Leader of the Opposition.

Guests were in attendance from Ottawa, Lively, Barrie, St. Catharines, Kingston, Harrowsmith, Toronto, Peterborough, Hamilton and Annapolis Royal.

Council claims OMB dragging feet on zoning

Council has called for a meeting, hopefully tonight, to discuss with engineers George Crestman and Paul Perry of Phillips Planning and Engineering the new zoning bylaw prepared by them and awaiting approval by the Ontario Municipal Board.

Council is confused with the plan, especially after having received three re-zoning applications and also four objections to the zoning bylaw.

Councillor Douglas Bensley said there was no co-operation from the provincial authorities and that they were going to a lot of time-consuming trouble. He said that OMB has dealt slowly with the village's bylaw and this is holding up the applications for changes in the zoning to allow construction work.

He suggested that a letter be sent to Clarke T. Rollins, M.P.P. for Hastings, asking for help. Mr. Rollins should also be asked to investigate the reasons for the delay in construction of a senior citizens residence on Church St.

TEA POURER AT OPEN HOUSE

Mrs. Alice Cronkright poured tea on behalf of residents of Edward Street Manor on the occasion of an afternoon tea to celebrate Ontario Nursing Home week. Sponsored by the Stirling Women's Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. James Boughen, the afternoon was a tremendous success with approximately 100 guests served and taken on guided tours through the Home by the members of the staff.

Applications for changes in zoning had come from W.J. Morton who wants to build an apartment complex on St. James St., Dr. P. Briggs who wants to expand his premises at the Medical Building, and Alton Hadley who wants to build a section on a Wright Street home he bought. Mr. Morton came before council Monday night to submit his application and ask for a change in the zoning bylaw for his St. James Street property. The change would place the property to Multiple Residential (RM2) from residential (R2).

Objection to the new zoning bylaw were made by Mrs. L. Jones who said in her letter to council that the house beside her should be regarded as commercial as the proprietor is keeping children overnight from Wingfield Home and taking them to their school on the Campbellford Road in the daytime.

Other objectors are the sons of the late Frank Stapley who feel their land off Emma Street should be zoned open space or greenbelt lands. J.V. Holt feels the same way about his lots on Henry Street.

Dr. P. Briggs also feels he needs more space for his offices and that his lot should have been under RM2 and not residential.

Council hopes to settle some of its problems and questions and process the applications with the meeting with the engineers.

Service - Stirling stores' greatest asset

A committee of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce is working on the question of store hours in the village, Arthur Loucks, president, told members at a meeting last Thursday night.

Rudy Klompmaier asked whether it might be advisable for all merchants to remain open on Thursday as well as Friday nights. He noted that many people now receive their paycheques on Thursday and a trend is growing to Thursday night shopping.

Asked to speak on the question, Harold C. Bird said his store was trying Thursday night opening "but it's not going over."

Alluding to large commercial developments taking place in the Quinte area, Mr. Williams said to compete, Stirling merchants are going to have to concentrate on offering service.

"It's the only thing we've got to offer over Belleville," he told the members.

There are a great many shoppers who will pay as much or more for a product, if they are greeted by a name and given personal service, he said.

And further, Mr. Williams suggested that the Chamber offer, as a special project next fall, a course in customer relations, especially suited for store clerks and other employees who deal with the public.

Bylaws officer may read Hydro meters

Reeve Robert Anderson asked council Monday night whether they would be interested in having the village bylaw officer read the Hydro meters for the Public Utilities Commission. He said this system is practised in Tweed and Frankford.

Reeve Anderson said Mr. McGee would be paid on an hourly basis by the PUC for his work. The reeve said that Mr. McGee would be working two days a month. The councillors voiced agreement with the idea put forward by the Reeve.

Mr. McGee said he would be interested but he would not be able to commence work until August as he is now attending classes in the day time.

This evoked discussion among councillors as most of them thought Mr. McGee had quit school the end of May. Reeve Anderson said he thought this had been agreed upon when they hired Mr. McGee.

Mr. McGee said he spent two days home and did not see any sense so he continued with his schooling. He said the night hours is when he is most needed.

Mr. McGee said he would be finished his course by the end of July and then would be on call during the day and night hours. Council seemed satisfied with this arrangement.

Also discussed by council at the same time was the number of complaints from citizens about cars and motorcycles speeding. Front and Church streets were noted as particular routes where the noise and the speeding were most noticed.

Councillor Edward Klompmaier said that the bylaw officer should work more closely with the Ontario Provincial Police from Belleville, in having violations charged.

Mr. McGee said it is hard to obtain specific details in speeding cases and that careless driving charges would be the best method of controlling such cases. Councillors agreed that speeding drivers are a real problem in the village.

Minister graduates

Roy A. Taylor of Stirling, having recently graduated from Knox College, Toronto, was licensed as a Minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada in a ceremony held at the regular meeting of the Kingston Presbytery at Camden East, Ont., on Wednesday, June 16, 1971. Rev. Taylor will be Ordained and inducted at a ceremony to be held this evening in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, at 8:00 p.m.

The average attendance at Senior Citizens last Thursday had just finished games when Ernie Munro called out "Come and get it folks." We all thought he was fooling but he slapped us as tasty a lunch as one could wish for. Thank you Ernie.

Be at the club room at 1:30 Thursday and bring along your basket and eating tools for we will leave then for a pot luck supper at Island Park.

Now that the novelty of the mini skirt has worn off let us turn our eyes to men's knees for a change. Do you know that six out of every ten men walk with a limp. They likely had water on the knee at some time. Now women seldom limp. Why don't they get water on the knee too? Maybe it's because the majority of ladies wear pumps.

Chamber wants 3-hour parking limit enforced

A committee of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce will discuss further the need for more downtown parking space, and send a delegation to a special meeting of village council with recommendations.

This was the decision of the Chamber at a general meeting held Thursday night at St. John's Church hall.

Reeve Robert Anderson was present to discuss two proposals which have been made for expanding Stirling's parking facilities.

As a temporary measure, David

Duffin has agreed to allow the village to use a lot he owns on North St. as an all-day parking lot. In conjunction with this, the Chamber would like the council to enforce a three-hour limit on parking in the present municipal lot on Front St.

Secondly, the Chamber asked council to investigate the possibility of purchasing the old stone mill property, adjacent to the municipal lot, for additional parking space. The reeve relayed information obtained by council that the owner, Mrs. Pearl Tolley, is asking $15,000 for the property. Reeve Anderson said he did not feel the municipality could pay that price, but added that he would like to see the village acquire it "at a reasonable price."

Yet, if the village decides not to purchase it, zoning changes should be made to allow development of the property, he said. A zoning change already has been approved by council, he said, and the application now is a waiting approval of provincial

Chamber names directors

The following persons were elected as directors of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce for the current year at a meeting of the general membership Thursday night at St. John's Anglican Church hall:

Harold Wells, Wiegner DeJong, Eugene Burrell, Edward Klompmaier, George Noble and Eldon Kemp.

Committee chairmen elected were David Duffin, Retail; George Noble, Municipal; and Donald Rodgers, Industrial.

Reeve attends fire practice

Reeve of the village of Stirling, Robert Anderson, attended this month's meeting of the Stirling Volunteer Fire Department.

When introduced after the business of the meeting had been conducted, Reeve Anderson apologized for the infrequent pattern of visits that council members have paid the department. He stated that the council is very pleased with the department's activities, and that council has good intentions of coming to more meetings, but that time will permit visits only when they are most needed.

When volunteer firefighter Bruce Woodbeck thanked Mr. Anderson for having the wall of the department repaired recently, the Reeve said that he hopes that in the next few years some thing can be done toward a new fire hall.

Volunteer firefighter Jim Edgar thanked Reeve Anderson for coming to the meeting.

Ministers exchange starts this Sunday

Beginning Sunday, June 27, Rev. J. Bruce Small of St. Paul's Church, Stirling, will be taking four services and doing the work of a church of Scotland minister in the parish of Summerfield, Glasgow. Besides the regular work as an industrial chaplain at Templetons Carpet Factory at Bridgeton Cross, Glasgow, starting on Sunday, June 27, the Rev. George Harkes of Summerfield Parish, Glasgow, will be preaching and doing the pastoral work of St. Paul's for one month. He will continue as pulpit supply during the fine holiday season, July 25 to Aug. 22, day. Harkes began his life's work as an apprentice joiner, then entered the RAF on national service from 1947 to 1949. At 23 he was called to be minister in the Church of Scotland and entered Presbyterian College in South Wales, followed by more education in Cardiff University. Mr. Harkes' education was interrupted by the death of his father in 1951. In 1951 he entered Edinburgh University for five years and for three years attended New College, Edinburgh. Since graduating from college he has served the Rothiemay charge, been a chaplain in the RAF and the Summerfield Parish Church, Glasgow.

Mr. Harkes is married and his wife's name is Jennifer. Mrs. Harkes is a biology teacher at a large high school in Lanarkshire.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

HOGLE LETTER

Two letters from G.H. Hogle were read at council on Monday night. They dealt with his request for permission to convert a building on James Street facing Gore Street into a dwelling and for some action concerning his amount of municipal assessment. Council replied that he did not have enough land frontage to build and that his assessment was carried out by the province and not the village.

TENDER AWARDED

Council on Monday night received tenders for street markings of parking areas, cross walks, and No Parking signs. Council accepted the tender of Greenway Line Markers of Belleville at a price of $184.50. Maurice Bell's tender of $310. for white markings and $362.50 for yellow markings, with the village providing four men for a day was rejected.

STIRLING HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Summer Work Cont. - When Dahlias are about a foot tall, side shoots may be pinched out to develop a stronger main stalk and longer finer flowers.

TENDERS CALLED

Council is calling tenders for sidewalk construction from Wells Garage to Rodgers Drive, involving an area of 4,000 sq. ft. The sidewalk will be constructed for the safety of children going downtown and to school.

PARKING LIMIT

Council will establish and enforce three hour parking at the municipal parking lot off Front Street, which will prohibit all day parkers.

Reeve Robert Anderson said Monday night there was plenty of parking beside the arena and on the streets.

The Clerk of the village is to draw an amendment to the village parking bylaw.

The Chamber of Commerce is to meet with council to discuss downtown parking and the space available with the demolition of the old mill on Front Street.

NEEDS LAND SPLIT

A letter was read to council from Everett Sine of Baker Street who wanted to sell one acre of land on the north side of Robb Street at the corner of Baker. Council decided he would need a land split and house plan and would have to fill out an application for consideration by the committee of adjustment.

Concrete Removal

A letter was read at council from A.E. Branscombe who wants the village to remove the remaining sidewalk on the south side of Charlotte Street outside his home. Mr. Branscombe wants to continue his lawn to the road side.

second week.)

The 18th Annual Eastern Ontario Mixed Doubles Tournament was held at D and A Lanes, Trenton, this year. Alleyhouses taking part and sending three couples each were Belleville, Trenton, Brighton, Campbellford, Kingston, Tweed, Deseronto and Stirling. In order to qualify, each couple has to bowl three games in their own alley house on the tournament dates posted. Each bowler may bowl as often as he wishes, but only once with the same partner. They are given handicaps based on their season's average, which are carried to the final. The top three couples from Stirling winning the right to bowl at Trenton were Lenora West and Ralph Sca, Hilda Rose and Doug Sca and Vera Woodbeck and Ralph Park. Stirling made an excellent showing at Trenton with Vera Woodbeck and Ralph Park placing second and Hilda Rose and Doug Sca third. First Place went to Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Belleville, who won the Annual Trophy and keepers and second and third place finishers also received awards.

Lenora West was Stirling Bowl-O-Drome's only entry this year in the Annual Queen of the Lanes Tournament at the Bowl-O-Drome, Belleville. She came through with a 224.5 average for ten games, well above her 200 league average. The game her second place for a win of $12. for her $8. entry fee. First place was won by Bea Hunt of Belleville, who with a league average of 237 bowled 239.4.

No Sex Life

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

My wife is 49 and I'm three years older, but we live like brother and sister. Our lack of a sex life is getting me down. I think it's also affecting my health. I don't know whom to talk to about this problem.

R. E., Richmond, Calif.

Start by discussing it with your family doctor, preferably with your wife there, too. She's at the age of menopause, and some women believe this must mean the end of their sex lives. Your wife may need the doctor's assurance that this needn't be the case at all. (Also, many women, at this time of life, have specific hormonal problems which may be helped by estrogen replacement therapy.) So whatever the problem - whether it's hers or yours - why not discuss it with your doctor? This could prove beneficial to all concerned.

Lady Bird or Chick?

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I am a widower, age 52. Recently I met a 51-year-old widow with two grown children. We hit it off pretty well and I've been thinking we might make a go of marriage. However, the guys at work keep telling me I'd be better off finding myself a "young chick" to marry. Could they be right?

O. H., Passaic, N.J.

Dear O. H.:

People don't marry age groups; they marry individuals. A woman at 51 can be active and lively. Another at 25 can be a dodo. If you've found someone you like and feel compatible with, you've answered your own question. Why not tell your fine feathered friends that a lady bird in the hand beats a flurry of chicks some place else.

authorities.

Graham C. Mouck said the property now has a much more pleasing appearance since the removal of the old mill. The site could be made into a real focal point of the village, as a combination park and parking lot he said.

Donald R. Williams said he thought that not many citizens would object to the purchase by the village of the property, as long as the price was reasonable. But it ought not to become a parking lot for people who leave their cars in Stirling all day while they go on to other places, he said.

"The taxpayers should not have to foot the bill for that kind of parking," said Mr. Williams. Meanwhile, George Noble urged the people to ask council to grade and gravel the front section of the Duffin lot, in order to provide accommodation for the day-long parkers in the municipal lot. It was generally agreed that this could be done for $100.

Summer Picnic Breakfasts

We all love to go meandering through the countryside. Usually with a picnic lunch. Some of us love the earlier hours of the day, when the forest is awakening. So why not take both a breakfast and lunch picnic and enjoy a full day in the out-of-doors?

Keep your cupboard at home stocked with paper and plastic eating utensils, so that when you wake up and it's a lovely morning, you can pack up and take off with little effort.

Children enjoy picnic breakfasts! Choose a place that's flat so you can spread out and let everyone help themselves.

Your freezer will come in handy - you can store freshly baked and packaged bakery items, such as donuts, muffins, buns and bread of all sorts ready for a picnic in a minute. To freeze bread or bakery products, be sure they are fresh and in moisture-proof packages. The food you put in your freezer will come out as fresh as it went in. But remember that freezing does not improve a product's freshness!

Try this menu for your next out-door breakfast - Choice of Canned Juices (individual size)

Sausage Egg Buns
Sugared Doughnuts
Coffee or Milk

Before you leave take sausage patties from the freezer and hard boil and slice eggs. The patties will be thawed by the time you have picked your picnic site, ready to be warmed through.

Convenience is the homemaker's word today, and bread and bakery products are certainly an asset.

Ontario still anglers' paradise

Ontario's proud tourist industry suffered a shocking blow last year when mercury pollution was discovered in some of its finest fishing waters.
There is no denying that mercury is a problem here, but it is hardly confined to Ontario.
In Canada, it has been found from coast to coast. And, since it has also been found in the U.S.A., Japan and Sweden, it could very well be of universal concern.

But, for a sportsman's paradise whose fishing opportunities are legend, Ontario came in for the most publicity . . . some exaggerated, some true, some exaggerated out of proportion and some so downright erroneous as to disturb its fine image.

Intensive government research and testing has revealed, however, that fish containing mercury in unsafe levels have been discovered in less than 100 Ontario waters. This is really just a drop in the bucket compared to this total of more than 250,000 lakes and as many rivers and streams.

Even in waters where unsafe mercury levels have been discovered, by no means are all species equally affected. Often only one or two species of fish in the body of water contain a level of mercury unsafe for human consumption.

So there are millions of every species in environments as healthy as always and Ontario offers the optimum in locales . . . from downstream areas of some its resort cities to the far north Arctic gateway.

For the more rugged sportsman, a fly-in trip to such rivers as Winisk, Sutton or Albany, makes for a once-in-a-lifetime adventure.

This is the land of trophy, size brook trout. Where rivers tumble, often treacherously and always excitingly, toward James and Hudson Bays, in the sub-Arctic. Where guides deem a stretch of water crowded if his party encounters other humans during a week-long safari. Where brookies under four pounds might be all right for a shore dinner but inadequate as keepers when you know five and six-pounders lurk in the waterfalls pool around the next bend.

Ontario is endowed with many fine flying services into these untamed waters, offering a variety of plans and trip packages.
Typical is an American plan which offers a fly-in, fly-out service at a cost of $375 per person for seven days. The package includes transportation from Thunder Bay, meals, guides, boats and motors.

If you find the fly-in trip tab
a little steep but still yearn for remote waters and hardy camp life, how about a fishing vacation in the heartland of Ontario's vast Algonquin Park?

The borders of this largest of Ontario's provincial parks are easily accessible by car but,
from then on, the country is every bit as rugged as you could wish it.

A circuitous canoe route through half a dozen of the park's lakes will expose you to some excellent deep water lake trout fishing. Brook trout are native to all waters in the park but are more numerous in the streams on the north side.
Bass are found generally on the south side. With walleye in the lower reaches of the Petawawa River and muskies in Lake Traverse, anglers can map out a trip to cover the fishing species they most desire.

There are even places in Ontario, where you don't have to leave town to enjoy some of the best trout fishing imaginable.
Come to the Georgian Bay towns of Owen Sound, Meaford, Craileith, Thornbury and Collingwood for the spring and autumn runs of rainbow trout.

Stay in a modern hotel or roadside motel overnight and before dawn a walk of a few blocks or less will take you to the trout-filled streams meandering through the town's business and residential sections. At lunch time, you only have to climb the banks of the stream to find yourself within easy walking distance of a restaurant. Then back on the stream until dark. Rainbows in this district have been known to top the 15-lb. mark, with 5-pounders common.

To combine a bit of the rugged life with some of the modern conveniences, take a housekeeping cottage in the Muskoka or Kawartha districts of the province.

Here you will find a variety of sport fish, from muskie to bass, from walleye to trout. And, you are always near a store, boat rental or bait facility in these colorful districts a short two-hour drive north of Toronto.
If you want to see a good bit of the country while enjoying a fishing vacation, the mobility and comfort of a rented houseboat might be the answer.

Try the Severn-Trent Waterway, stretching some 240 miles westward from Trenton on the Bay of Quinte to Port Severn on Georgian Bay. Walleye, bass, pike and muskie may be found from the Bay of Quinte to George Bay. Lake Simcoe yields lake trout, walleye, bass and pike, while brook and rainbow trout haunt the district streams.

So, no matter your fishing pleasure, Ontario can accommodate you. For further information, contact Press Officer, Ontario Tourism, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario.

will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.
The time to think about income taxes, but believe me it's not. As we enjoy our summer vacations and try to get away from the daily grind, there is much that can be done to help ease next year's tax chore.

Actually when most of us start to worry about our income tax returns each January, it is too late.
The year has already ended and there's nothing more that can be done to alter the facts.

We should be worrying about what can be done during the year we're living in to help reduce the tax load. If you haven't been taking steps designed to help your tax situation so far this year, now is the time to start.

For example, now is when you can still control your tax deductible expenses, your deductions, your contributions and possibly even your income.

If you're going to be involved in the buying or selling of real estate, stocks or other investments, your tax situation should be a major factor affecting any decision you make.

Too many people believe that the only way to legitimately reduce their tax burden is to have a good accountant in the spring.
They fail to realize that actions during the year are by far more important as a tax factor.

So don't wait until next spring until you start to worry about this year's income tax return.
Worry about it now . . . this year.

And now that I've given you something to worry about, you need a good vacation.

Wally's engaging smile is just like his disposition. He is a bright, friendly boy who makes friends easily and is interested in everything he sees.

Wally is nine. He is a healthy, active boy, keen on sports and enthusiastic about outdoor living, especially in a camper with his foster family. He's involved with soccer now and in the winter it was hockey. Though not husky in build, he plays defence and loves it. He is also interested in judo.

You can see Wally is a handsome lad with blonde hair, brown eyes, fair skin and a few freckles. He's tall for his age. He likes school and is a good student.

Wally loves other children, so Children's Aid adoption where he would find plenty of stimulation and a great deal of love.

Nursing home legislation planned

Health Minister Bert Lawrence announced that his department is currently considering legislation to provide an opportunity for new nursing on a basis of need. This announcement, made at a dinner in Toronto, to mark the opening of Ontario Nursing Home Week, follows an earlier statement, attributed to Mr. Lawrence that the Province was already overloaded with nursing homes.

The dinner was attended by 300 nursing home administrators from all over Ontario. The audience warmed quickly to Mr. Lawrence's sense of humor and timing in delivery when chatting informally about his new appointment as Minister of Health. Without making definite promises, beyond consideration of several controversial points, Mr. Lawrence received, not one, but three standing ovations. Mr. Lawrence indicated that he is hopeful that residents of the Province of Ontario will have the best health care available anywhere in the world. This will mean the inclusion of nursing homes in the medical care programs now operating in the Province commencing in April 1973. Nursing homes, licensed and government regulated as to standards, will be utilized for convalescing patients who would otherwise require continued hospitalization. In this way, many active hospital beds, will become available.

Mr. Lawrence departed from the formality of speech making and welcomed questions from the floor. In answering one question, he indicated his department would give consideration to the expansion of nursing homes in the near future, depending upon circumstances and needs with the community. Only last month, the department announced that new licenses would be granted until the chronic care division completed a survey of the provincial needs. This "freeze" on licensing also applies to expansion of existing homes. It now appears that regulations may be eased in areas where a service can be performed to fulfill a need. In answer to a question from the floor concerning Medical Officers of Health and their role, Mr. Lawrence declined comment in saying: "I'd rather not say anything with the press in attendance. I can't think of anything to say about the M.O.H. system without getting into trouble."

Merrywood Camp to open

On Sunday, June 27, old friends and new faces will arrive in the Smith Falls area for the start of another season at Merrywood Camp for crippled children.

Any adult who has ever accompanied a child to his first summer camp will readily understand the mixed emotions that surge within each year of experience.

And it is no different as far as a handicapped child is concerned. For the new camper, a mixture of expectation and apprehension, of the old hand, impatience and anticipation.

Whatever the feelings, by the end of August 28 handicapped youngsters from Eastern Ontario will have benefited from a two-week summer camping experience at Merrywood.

Old friendships will have been renewed, new ones established, and happy memories stored away to last another year, thanks to the public's generous response to the annual Easter Seal appeal.

Opened in 1948, Merrywood is the third of five summer camps owned and operated by the Society for Crippled Children. It occupies 30 acres on the shores of Rideau Lake just off Highway 43 at Port Elmsley, midway between Smiths Falls and Perth.

Merrywood's 22 permanent buildings are specially designed to meet the various needs of 72 handicapped youngsters at a time. Campers range in age from seven to seventeen years.

Although they compete in numerous games and activities, the competition is directed more against individual handicaps than against each other.

Activities are designed to encourage individual participation by every camper regardless of the nature or severity of his handicap and to continue his active rehabilitation, both physically and emotionally, in pleasant surroundings.

The Ontario Society invites visitors in the area to view the camp any day throughout the summer, except during the children's rest period between 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m.

A special invitation is also extended for Camp Open House on Sunday, August 1 from 2:30 p.m. until 5:30 p.m. On this occasion, visitors will have a further opportunity to inspect the program and facilities more thoroughly and see just one aspect of what their Easter Seal dollars can do.

Fighting Family
Dear Margaret Brookfield:I don't know what it is about our family, but everyone scraps with everyone else. I fight with my husband. We both fight with the kids. We argue about everything: money, running the house, his mother, my mother, raising the children, his personal habits, my personal habits, you name it. Maybe we just ought to get boxing gloves and square off at one another. Or is there some better way to settle our differences?
T. W., Williamsburg, Va.
Dear T.W.:

According to the experts, some fights are good for you, others are not. They're fine for getting a chip off your shoulder or blowing off steam, but not so good if they damage a person's ego or do lasting harm to a marriage. Instead of boxing gloves, you might want to follow these ground rules for the settling of differences:

First, determine if the fight is necessary. If so, don't square off immediately while tempers are running hot. Instead, pick a later time and place. (by making the appointment in advance, you and your adversary will have plenty of time to plan your arguments coolly and logically. And be sure to keep that appointment.) Once you begin the discussion, get to the point immediately. Say what you think instead of wasting a lot of words. Ventilate your views. But also give the other fellow a chance to have his say and don't try to impose your will on him. (He has as much right to his opinion as you do to yours). Argue things through to a settlement of some kind. When you walk away from each other, be sure the fight is finished. If not, you can always make an appointment to have another one.

Take the Initiative
Dear Margaret Brookfield:
My husband never wants to stay home. He always wants to go out, but whenever I suggest things he might like to do, he always says no. Yet he never offers any suggestions of his own. Unless we get an invitation, he hesitates to call people on a last-minute basis. He says they might be too busy to see us. We're getting to be like a couple of hermits. Could you make some suggestions for improving our social life?
J. G., Brattleboro, Vt.Dear J. G.:
Well, someone better do something. Why not make your home the center of your social life? For example, you might have a party and invite everyone you know. The party needn't be elaborate. It should be well thought out and planned in advance, however. (Make a list of things to be done, food and beverages to be bought, etc. Ask your husband to be responsible for some of the chores.) Once you start the ball rolling, people will reciprocate and start inviting you over. An even simpler possibility is to plan a picnic or a trip to a nearby place of interest and ask a few friends or acquaintances to join you. Most people sit around waiting for the other to ask them out. If you take the social initiative, you'll find you get a warm response.

St. Andrew's groups meet

The regular meeting of St. Andrew's WMS and Ladies Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Leslie Adams with a good attendance last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Harold Thompson presided, and assisted by Mrs. B. Haggerty, conducted a memorial service for Mrs. Morley Haggerty who was a member of St. Andrew's Church for many years, and assisted with the choir and Ladies group.

Mrs. Lindsay Sills prepared the program on the Theme "Life". The roll call was answered by a verse from the Bible containing the word "Life".

Mrs. Russell Sills gave the devotional talk and the dialog, "Little Things" was given by Mrs. L. Sills, Mrs. W. Donnan and Mrs. Harry Thompson.

During the business, final plans were made for assisting the Stirling Presbyterian Ladies with their lunch for the induction of Rev. Roy Taylor on June 23rd.

Mrs. L. Sills moved a vote of thanks to the hostess and those who helped the program. The meeting closed with the song, "I'll pray for You and You Pray for me Until we Meet again."

Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

Presbyterian minister ordained and inducted at St. Andrew's

Over 200 persons attended the "Service of Ordination and Induction" of Mr. Roy Taylor at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening, June 23.

Mrs. Harry Morrow, organist, opened a prelude of soft music and accompanied the music of the evening.

Rev. R. E. Hawkes of Madoc, gave a brief explanation of the purpose of the gathering, in his "Reading of the Edict".

Rev. D. Murphy of Belleville, conducted the worship part of the service. He read 1 Corinthians 12: 12, 13, 27 - 31. In his sermon he asked, "What is the mission of the church?" He defined the church in two ways.

1. As being organized on pastoral basis where you have the people as a flock of Jesus Christ and the minister as the shepherd. This usually consists of a small group, self-centered, turning inward, never reaching out to others.

2. As being on mission basis - where the work of the church is moving out into the world to help others. He emphasized that a group without a mission cannot be called the church. In comparing the minister to the disciples, who is doing similar work as they, he mentioned that the disciples were not as shepherds but as slaves, servants, teachers, healers, etc., thus the minister should not be classed as a shepherd but as a worker and leader with the flock.

The choir consisting of Stirling and West Huntingdon members sang the anthem, "In Deeper Reverence."

The offering was received by Harold Thompson and son, Glen, and Gordon Mills and son, Dale.

In the "Service of Ordination and Induction," Rev. A. L. Sutherland, Interim Moderator of St. Andrew's, Stirling and West Huntingdon, gave the "Presentation of Ordination and Narration of Steps."

The vows of Ordination and Induction were conducted by Rev. E. H. Hunter, Moderator of Presbyterian, of Ganarogue, with the laying on of hands by the ministers and the right hand of fellowship by the members of presbytery. He also conducted the Signing of the Formula, by Mr. Taylor.

Rev. D. A. Wilson of Trenton, gave the exhortation, emphasizing the duties of a minister as being to win people to the cause of Jesus Christ and those of the congregation to give loyalty, respect, trust and prayers for the strengthening of the minister in his work.

Hymns sung during the evening were, "Give to our God immortal praise," "Pour out Thy Spirit from on High," and "All the way my Saviour leads me."

Rev. Roy Taylor pronounced the benediction.

Besides the ministers mentioned were several members of Kingston Presbytery.

Following the service everyone enjoyed a social hour in the basement of the church. The ladies of West Huntingdon and Stirling served delicious refreshments.

Mr. Sutherland, as the close of the evening, spoke of how rewarding an evening it had been, made very approving remarks of Mr. Taylor and gave him many encouraging words.

Mr. Thompson, on behalf of West Huntingdon, voiced comments in appreciation of the work Mr. Taylor is doing and presented him with a gift of money.

Earl Fox, on behalf of Stirling, gave added remarks and Maurice Faulkner presented the Taylors with a picture of the area, centered with St. Andrew's church, Stirling, which had been painted by Mrs. Don McIntosh.

Mr. Taylor thanked everyone for all the gratifying acts and expressed that he felt confident in his new undertaking, with the co-operation he had been receiving.

Mrs. Taylor also voiced thanks for all the kindnesses shown them and spoke very sincerely with reference to her husband's difficult years of work to reach this goal and the encouragement she had tried to give him.

Local and visiting ministers in attendance offered their congratulations.

Mr. Sutherland closed this part of the evening with the benediction.

Babies baptized at St. Andrew's

Many visitors were in attendance at the church service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday. It was the first baptismal service to be conducted by the Rev. Roy Taylor.

The babies baptized were Tricia Michelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eggleton of Toronto; Diane Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shaw, R.R. 2, Stirling; and Joanne Glenda Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Flood of Stirling.

Mr. Taylor chose as text for his sermon, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased," from Matthew 3:17. He spoke on the baptism of Jesus and stressed the importance of our baptism in Christ, creating a new and greater life than we have ever known. God uses just, upright and righteous men like John the Baptist, who baptized Jesus, as channel to the faithful followers of his work. It could be any one of us chosen. Christ accepts the sins of all men as He becomes the bridge of man from earth to heaven.

Taxes are due today

Today is the deadline for payment of the first instalment of this year's municipal taxes in Stirling.

Clerk-treasurer W.L. Pollock reports that payments have been coming in very well.

A number of people have paid not only their first instalment but their entire taxes for 1971, the clerk reports.

Jack McCaughen writes new song

Jack McCaughen, Stirling, amateur song writer and co-producer of the Trent Valley County Jambores, has written a song entitled "Steam Engine 6218" which has been accepted by Canadian National Railways.

It will be on sale as a souvenir song, aboard Train 6218, on her excursion runs July 3 - 4, between Belleville to Anson Junction.

"It is quite an honor to have a song accepted for 'a historic occasion,'" said Mr. McCaughen. "If you are aboard the old steam-er on her last excursion, get a copy of the song."

A CALENDAR TO BRING BACK MEMORIES

Robert Patterson, right, and his son, Douglas, hold a calendar that has been with the Pattersons' Men's Wear shop since 1929. In December of 1929, Bob Patterson borrowed enough money from the Bank of Montreal to start a men's clothing store. Scratched on the back of the calendar are

Bob's signature, $1,000 and the words "and this calendar and the good Bank of Montreal." A manager of the bank once suggested that Bob replace the old date cards which were somewhat worn by time and usage. Bob refused. Doug took over the business in 1966 and the calendar still hangs on the back wall of the store. With the opening of the new local branch of the Bank of Montreal slated for mid-July, it seemed appropriate to publish a picture of the old calendar which has become a well-guarded memento of bygone times. Photo by Roy Lewis.

Hold Mother-Daughter banquet at St. Paul's

The annual mother and daughter banquet for the girl guides and brownies was held recently in the reception rooms of St. Paul's Church.

Hostess for this event was Mrs. James Hoard, president of the local association. After the opening prayers and marching on of the colors by the guides, Mrs. Hoard introduced the head table.

Members of the head table included Mrs. R. Hoard, guide; Mrs. J. Bryant, division commissioner; Mrs. B. Glen-dinning, district commissioner; Mrs. Bruce Bell, former association secretary; Mrs. C. Pittman, guide captain; Mrs. G. Clark, guide lieutenant; Mrs. L. Dobson, guide lieutenant; Mrs. L. Hoth, guide helper; Mrs. Ray

Burley, brown owl; Mrs. R. Lawrence, tan owl; Mrs. A. McConnell, snow owl; Mrs. G. Rhysbarger, association secretary; Mrs. C. Trumble, association and brownie treasurer; and Mrs. B. Morton, brownie mother.

Mrs. B. Bell, Mrs. Dobson, and Mrs. Burley were presented with "Thank You" badges on behalf of the association, for their years of work with the guiding. The award presentations were made to the brownies by the leaders and included the wings, highest of the test work awards, given to Kim Lawrence, Tammy Fairies, Cheryl Morton, Jill Donly, Lynn Murray, Ellen Jones, Jennifer Hunter, Sandra Lake, and Sandra Edgar. A special award for selling the most cookies was given to Kim Lawrence. Ellen Jones presented Mrs. Burley with a gift from the brownies on her retirement.

Bankers hold golf tourney

The Bank of Montreal's Eastern Region District 3 Golf and Field Day was held on June 19 in the Frankford, Stirling area.

Sixty-five golfers enjoyed a round on the eighteen hole Oak Hills Golf Club which was in excellent condition for the event. The best score was turned in by Rod Workman with an 82.

Five pensioners turned out for the event. Among them were R. D. (Mac) MacDonald, a former manager of Frankford and Trenton as well as Harry McLean, a former manager of the Tweed branch. The others were Ray Presley, Russ Hoeg and Bill Duff.

While the golf tournament was under way a fishing tournament was also carried on in the Trent River using the facilities of Bona Vista Fishing Camp at Glen Ross. It wasn't particularly good day for fishing but Carl Reid, from Belleville, won first prize with a three pound catfish.

The fishermen and golfers visited Stirling in the late afternoon to have a look at the new branch of the Bank of Montreal there and to make use of the showers which were provided in the Stirling Senior Public School.

Later, at 6:30, a dinner was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Frankford Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion in the new Legion Hall at Frankford and presentations were made to the prize winners. Ken MacLackie, District Manager officiated at the dinner and presentations. John Kelleher, vice president, was on hand to present some of the prizes and won a consolation prize himself for his golf score.

Clarification

Reeve Robert Anderson has asked the News Argus to clarify remarks attributed to him in last week's edition concerning the need for additional downtown parking in Stirling.

During a discussion concerning the possibility of establishing a temporary all-day parking lot on the North St. site offered by businessman David Duff, the reeve was quoted as saying there was plenty of parking space besides the arena and on the streets.

What he actually said was that there is plenty of parking beside the arena and ACROSS the street from the arena.

It is an obvious fact that there is not adequate parking space on village streets, particularly during peak shopping periods.

The guides began their part of the program with a badge report. The 23 Stirling Guides have earned a total of 91 proficiency badges for this year. Second class badges were presented to Melinda Patterson, Brenda Trumble, Isabel Hoard, Janice Morton and Jo Ann Val-char.

The yearly awards were as follows, top patrol, the Oriole Patrol, consisting of Janice Morton, patrol leader, Linda Hoard, Se-ponder, Karen Clarke, Jo Ann Wilson and Karen Wood, Guide earning the most badges during the year was Brenda Trumble. Guide showing the most all-around improvement was Isabel Hoard.

Following the presentations the guides staged a mock inspection which was amusing to their mothers. Next a short demonstration of a knot-tying relay took place. The guides closed their part of the evening with campfire songs.

In the Fly-up ceremony which followed, the brownies just awarded their wings were guided to the edge of the fairy ring by Brown Owl, where they were met by a guide escorting to Mrs. Pitman, guide captain.

Dump won't close today

The village of Stirling is under orders to close its municipal dump today but, until alternative arrangements have been made for the disposal of local garbage, it will stay open.

That is the word from Reeve Robert Anderson who told the News-Argus yesterday council is still negotiating for the use of a dump which Douglas Cooney plans to establish east of Frankford on the Fostboro Road.

Mr. Cooney's proposal is awaiting the approval of Sidney Township as well as provincial authorities.

Meanwhile, Stirling's garbage truck was being refitted with a new platform yesterday. The village called in Bob Ray of Campbellford to carry out Tuesday's pick-up with his packer truck.

MLA checking stalled project

The assistance of Clarke Rollins, MLA for Hastings, has been sought in connection with a mysterious delay in the construction of a senior citizens apartment complex on Church St. in Stirling.

Mr. Rollins is investigating why the project stalled almost before it got started.

The Ontario Housing Corporation last year awarded the contract to a Peterborough firm for the erection of a 12 unit apartment in Stirling.

Since then, the O.H.C. has approved the construction of an additional 12 units at the same location.

Club visits Island Park

Senior Citizens Week was recognized by Ruth and David Potts who invited us to Island Park and donated the facilities there for our pleasure. Forty-six of us enjoyed the afternoon there and also a basket picnic supper time. This kindness was much appreciated by us all, and Ruth and David - we'll be back again. Thank you very much.

If you are looking for natural beauty and a place to relax, just visit Island Park some time. Its frontage is the south channel of the beautiful Trent River and on its bank is a modern marina. There are in the park enough picnic tables to seat about 500, as well as a beautiful and spacious dining hall and a refreshment store. The hostess is Ruth Potts and none could be more hospitable than Ruth.

"Is the doctor in?" enquired the caller.

"Nope," answered his little son.

"Do you know when he'll be back?"

"Nope," he went on an eternity case.

Roslin area boy active in 4-H clubs

The following story appeared in the May - June edition of the UCO News:

Fifteen year-old Peter Tummon, of R.R. 2 Roslin can talk to you about conservation; or raising calves; or gardening; or the ignition system in a tractor; or finishing hogs; or even growing grain!

How did he become so knowledgeable? He's been active in his local 4-H clubs in all these different areas.

On top of that, he's been at fairs in Belleville and Peterborough - not as an observer - but as participant.

Didn't he have done this when joining a 4-H club, however?

Listen to what Peter says: "My experience in 4-H helps to promote interest in a variety of areas of the farm business. This doesn't always happen on your own farm. So it helps to broaden your overall outlook."

His biggest moment in 4-H, however, "was the day my calf took top honors at Stirling Fair." Peter also enjoys the field days because of the sports and the competition.

But he's found out that competition is a two-way street. You can't always be a winner!

"4-H has been of value to me in learning many important facts about raising cattle and various other farm activities, and in learning to accept defeat or first prize with a good attitude," says Peter.

Peter likes to participate, which is one reason why he joined his local 4-H club. But he has two other good reasons.

"My brother and my sister, who are also 4-H members, told me that 4-H was educational and entertaining," he says!

BRAMALEA CUBS WELCOMED TO EAGER BEAVER CAMP

Eager Beaver Children's Camp near Bonarlaw rolled out the welcome mat for a distinguished group of visitors last weekend. They were the members and leaders of the Bramalea B Wolf Cubs - a pack which distinguished itself by raising enough funds to finance a trip for the 30 boys to California last month. By means of showing movies on Saturday afternoon, peddling peanuts door to door, distributing various advertising leaflets, staging a fashion show and two dances, washing cars and participating in a clean-up, the boys, with the help of their parents, managed to raise more than $4,800 over a two-year period. Their recent five-day air trip to California included a visit to Disneyland, among other points of interest. As for their visit to this area, this is their third annual weekend outing to Eager Beaver Camp.

Some of the bankers travelled to the area on the previous evening bringing along their families and camping overnight. There were many favourable comments from the bankers about the hospitality which they received.

Some Thoughts on Hay Conditioning

Hay conditioning speeds field curing. Just how much depends on the crop, relative humidity and wind. But research has shown hay that was conditioned can be baled about a day earlier than hay that wasn't.

And hay that has been conditioned has other advantages besides speeding up field curing. In feeding trials in South Dakota with dairy cows, conditioned hay increased milk production. Other claims for hay conditioning are:

- Weather damage to hay is reduced.
- More hay is saved. The hay can be stored outdoors with less loss due to shattered leaves.
- Feeding value is higher - more carotene and protein saved.
- Conditioned hay is more palatable to cattle because the conditioner tenderizes the stems.

making them less sharp and not so brittle.

Although research doesn't all agree with these claims, it all agrees hay conditioning speeds up curing.

A conditioner does nothing more than crush or crimp the stems so that openings are provided for moisture to escape the stems at about the same rate it escapes the leaves. So leaves and stems dry to 80 to 25% moisture at about the same time.

Fiddling, stepdancing contest in Perth

This year will mark the debut of the Central Canadian Fiddling and Stepdancing Contest, which will be an expanded version of the annual contest sponsored by the Perth and District Old Time Fiddlers Association.

The contest will take place Friday, July 9, and Saturday, July 10, at the Perth and District Community Centre in Perth, Ontario, and is expected to draw anywhere from 75 to 100 entries ranging throughout Ontario, Quebec, and the Northern States. Over 300 entry applications have gone out to potential competitors.

A great deal of incentive has been added for this year's contest with the increasing of the total prize money to $1,125, with a top individual prize of $200 to the winner of the Open Class in Old Time Fiddling. In addition to the financial rewards, there are an impressive 31 annual trophies runners-up in all events and classes, many of these of major proportions.

Dawson Girdwood, organizer of the Central Canadian project, and himself a topflight Old Time Fiddler, noted in regard to the prize list that all net proceeds of this

It is noted that a contestant may enter both the fiddling and the stepdancing competition, BUT may enter in one class only in these divisions. The playoffs start at 7 p.m. sharp on Friday night, July 9, and contestants must be on hand not later than 6:30 p.m.

There will be a Fiddlers' Parade at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 10, from the Perth Fairgrounds, and a dance will be held at the Community Centre following the finals on Saturday night.

Replacing Old Dam

This summer the Crowe Valley Conservation Authority is building a new dam to replace the old one on the Crowe River just below the bridge at the former site of Allan's Mills, twelve miles north of Campbellford. The Cooper & Ellis Construction Company was awarded the contract. It is expected the work will take most of the summer before it is completed. The original Allan's Mills, which once operated by electric power generated by the dam, was destroyed by fire on the afternoon of Wednesday, November 1st, 1950. The old mill stood on the east bank of the river, and was a century-old landmark at the time of the fire. In the above photos, water is temporarily dammed back by a coffer dam reaching from the west bank past midstream, to permit workmen to proceed with the task at the permanent damsite.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

By William J. Martin

Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. 5875, London, Ontario, Canada. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

Now that summer is near and the warm weather has arrived, millions of Americans and Canadians are taking not only to the open road, but to the open water. Boating enthusiasts are an ever growing breed as people everywhere search for a place to "get away from it all." Many never return.

No, I'm not talking about boating accidents and drownings, although this is a very serious problem. I mean that many just stay on the water. This year the houseboat will lure still more to a unique way of life.

Today's houseboat is a far cry from the simple raft-like models of yesterday. Luxuriously decorated homes with wall to wall carpeting, modern kitchens, patio and den are now taking to the water.

Houseboat owners don't have to worry about landscaping or even about paying property taxes. They can travel almost anywhere they want along a vast system of inland waterways.

Houseboats can be purchased starting at just about $5,000. In most areas it cost little or nothing to moor your home on water. Even in the New York City area, mooring charges for the entire summer season cost only around $400.

If you're thinking about becoming a houseboat owner, consider the following advice.

Before you buy, rent a houseboat so you can really see what you're getting into before committing yourself. You can rent a unit starting at around $250 a week.

Decide on what type of living style you want to follow. How many people will be aboard your new house, how much time will be spent inside?

As in any buying, use care in who you buy from. Deal with established, reputable dealers. Get a professional opinion about a used houseboat before buying.

If a boat show comes to your area, take a look at some of the more than 250 houseboat models available today. They're a big chunk of the booming boat market, which had sales in the U.S. last year of nearly $35 billion. You may never return to your land-logged home.

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:
We note in last week's issue of the News-Argus that the Chamber of Commerce would like to have the three hour limit on parking enforced. Just where would the Chamber wish to have the Senior Citizens park while they attend the weekly Thursday club meeting? Many of these people do most of their shopping in Stirling. Up to now the Senior Citizens have been allowed to park anywhere on the street on Thursday. If the Chamber wishes the patronage of the older folk, perhaps they could issue a sticker to put on the car on Thursday afternoons. No one wants to walk half a mile to and from their car.

Just an idea for the Chamber to think about.
One of the older people.

Peace Park purpose discussed

Speaking on an interview program over cable station 6, CHV, Madoc, on Sunday evening, Roy Cadwell, Chairman of the Lester B. Pearson Peace Park said "The Peace Park is an expression of the desire of people everywhere for peace. It is the result of the help of many people including the churches, the Kwanis Clubs of Madoc and Tweed and the Legion branches of Madoc and Tweed who supply color parties each year for the annual re-dedication and who sponsored a 'Miles for Peace' walk to raise funds originally for the park. The Boy Scouts and the Girl Guides helped plant the Memorial Gardens. It is built on faith that others will help when the need arises. An indication of this is the Mother's Shrine on behalf of the 100,000 Canadian mothers who lost sons in previous wars. The site for which is being dedicated at the 5th Annual Re-Dedication on Sunday, July 4 at 3:00 p.m., which is being sponsored by a young Toronto couple, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dinick in the hope that when their son becomes of military age that he will not have to go to war."

The program was arranged by Gordon Pigen and the interview was conducted by Rev. (Capt) J. H. Thompson, Chairman of the annual re-dedication assisted by Rev. D. W. Heard and others. Photographs and newspaper releases were shown of previous re-dedications with Robert Kohaly, Past President of the Royal Canadian Legion and Mr. and Mrs. Kentaro Uemura of Tokyo, Japan and the Peace Pagoda Shrine, the only one in the Western world, the original money for which was given by a Buddhist organization as a symbol of peace and friendship between the East and West and in the vicinity of which former enemies meet in peace together.

"Peace is for everyone," concluded Mr. Cadwell. "Proof of this is the wide response to the Anthology Peace being sponsored by the park. Articles have been received from Peter Newman, Editor of McLean's, the Hon. Robert Stanfield and Queen Elizabeth II has granted permission to quote from her Christmas message. U. Thant sent a copy of his address to the 14th Congress of World Federalists in Ottawa last year and Billy Graham has given permission to use part of his book 'Peace with God' as has Ann Landers, the well known American columnist from her writings."

Boys and girls will be releasing peace balloons after the re-dedication. One of those of last year was found in Chatham, Ontario with the card of the sender attached. There will be Scottish folk dancing, with a paper for entertainment and a picnic.

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

Light Under a Bushel
Dear Margaret Brookfield:
What do you do about someone who thinks she's losing her identity? I am 43, the mother of two girls and sometimes I feel like I've painted myself into a corner. To be specific, I can't seem to fit my interests or desires into what my husband needs and wants. For example, I entered college at age 36 and went on to graduate with honors. I thought my husband would be pleased, but he wasn't at all. My success seems to be too hard on my man. So what's a girl to do?
C. L., Durham, N.C.

Dear C. L.:
It took a certain amount of get-up-and-go to start college at 36 and a certain amount of brains to graduate with honors. Why hide that light under a bushel now? Why not get out into the world, and find yourself some kind of part-time job. Just try being a person in your own right. It may be hard on your husband at first. But not doing it, seems pretty hard on you.

Learning to Cope
Dear Margaret Brookfield:
I am 52 and a widow. My husband who was considerably older than I, passed away recently. He was a wonderful man, extremely responsible, capable and very good company. He always took care of things: our finances, vacations, repairs on the house, etc. He was someone you could really lean on. Now that he's gone, I feel as though I can't cope with things at all. I just don't know what to do with myself. We had no children, so I have no one to turn to.
S. E., Madison, Wisc.

Dear S. E.:
No wonder you can't cope. You're probably trying to do

Seeley - Gliddon

St. Paul's United Church, Stirling was the scene of the recent wedding ceremony, when Debra Louise Gliddon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gliddon, Stirling was united in marriage to Peter Gilbert Seeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Seeley, also of Stirling. Rev. J. B. Small officiated at the ceremony and wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Harry Brown who also accompanied the soloist Mr. Glen Floud.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white imported lace over Italian silk tulle in A-line style featuring a stand-up collar and plain front panel with side belts. The back of the dress had an inverted pleat forming an opening to the tip of the train. A headress of flowerettes encircled with seed pearls was caught to a four-tier silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, white stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Miss Wendy Cruickshank as maid of honor wore a full length dress of citrus yellow imported damask cotton with stand-up collar and short puffed sleeves. The attire styled waistline was accented with satin ribbon cascading to a bow in back and extending to the hemline. The bridesmaids Miss Laura Bartlett and Miss Ruth Wannamaker were identically attired, but in Nile green. The little flower girl, Miss Jennifer Gray was similarly dressed in white with Nile green ribbon. All wore matching ribbons entwined in their hair and each carried a wicker basket of white daisies and 'mums'.

Orian Callery attended the bridegroom, while the ushers were Stephen Gliddon, brother of the bride, Charles Seeley, brother of the bridegroom, while the ring bearer was Paul Gliddon, nephew of the bride.

A reception was held at the Island Park, Tallyho room, where the bride's mother greeted the guests wearing a mauve crimplene dress and matching coat, white accessories and a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother assisted wearing a green crepe ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. For the wedding trip, the bride chose a white lace hot pants suit with pink rosebud trim, white and pink accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mr. and Mrs. Seeley will reside at 13 Charlotte Street in Stirling.

Changes announced in liquor laws

TORONTO - Ontario drinkers won't have to buy a meal when they want a drink in a dining lounge. And the 40-ounce bottle will reappear on LCBO shelves by Christmas.

These are but a few of the sweeping changes in Liquor Control Act and the Liquor License Act announced in the house today by the Hon. John Yaremko, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Citizenship.

"I announce no change in the drinking age as that is part of the considerations in connection with the 'age of majority'," Mr. Yaremko stated.

Other changes included: Dancing and dinner music in dining lounges and dining rooms will be permitted on Sundays. Liquor candies will now be available with up to five percent alcohol by weight.

The definition of resident for liquor consumption purposes has been broadened to include condominium and apartment buildings.

ing and their pools, patios, recreation rooms, lounges, laundry rooms, back and front yards and parking areas. Mobile homes are included.

Residents of senior citizens' homes may treat the whole residence as their home.

Where demand warrants, selected LCBO outlets will remain open until midnight.

Outdoor as well as indoor permits will be available for "well organized" special festivals and exhibitions.

The LCBO will establish a duty-free liquor store at Toronto International Airport for international flights.

Licensed establishments, getting in line with previous legislation which enabled them to open after the polls close in municipal and provincial elections, will be permitted to follow this line on federal election days.

While 1:00 a.m. final closing remains, licensed establishments will be given more flexibility in closing for periods during the day if the public is not inconvenienced.

Mr. Yaremko reported that the recently extended drinking service in the immediate open air areas of restaurants was proving successful.

"After a flurry of misunderstanding (as sometimes happens) these facilities are in operation and the public response has been most favorable," he said.

In other areas, the $5,000 minimum fine for any infringement of the Liquor License Act has been removed as "discriminatory."

Many of the announced changes are aimed at aiding the hospitality and tourist industry.

"We believe that the hospitality industry should be encouraged, and the regulations which affect the industry be more reasonable, realistic and in tune with the times," the Minister added.

Pointing out that "our society is becoming an eating-out one," Mr. Yaremko stated, however, that the drink plus a meal law "has led to some unrealistic situations."

"For example, when one wishes to join friends after having eaten elsewhere, or to a dining room where entertainment is being given in the late evening, some form of meal was mandatory."

"To eliminate the possibility of turning dining lounges into straight drinking lounges, proprietors will have to see to it that the total receipts from the sale of liquor in any month do not exceed the total receipts from the sale of food," the Minister said.

Mr. Yaremko also emphasized "that the local option provisions of the acts" will continue to be enforced. Citizens coming under these provisions will still have the right to determine these questions at the local level.

In the employment area, the new regulations make it possible for waiters and waitresses to work interchangeably in all licensed premises, regardless of the classification of license.

This means that waitresses can now be employed in men's beverage rooms. Formerly they could not.

"However, in view of the women's Equal Employment Opportunity Act these restrictions are removed," the Minister said.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate

Terry is a sturdy boy, 14 months old, with a lively interest in everything he sees. His development has been slightly behind the average for his age because he was born prematurely, but he has almost caught up now.

Anglo-Saxon in descent, he has big bright blue eyes, light-brown hair and fair skin.

Terry is a happy baby who loves people, especially children. He's an easy member of his foster family because he is always good-natured, he eats everything offered to him, and he's a splendid sleeper.

This youngster has a very mild nerve deafness and at a year he was fitted with a hearing aid. It has already been discarded because he functions very well without it. His only difficulty seems to be with high frequency sounds. He hears normal voices well. He is early learning to talk and has a vocabulary larger than many a child his age. Doctors say he will be able to attend normal classes in school, but they aren't prepared to prophesy whether he will ever need a hearing aid again.

This lovable toddler needs loving parents who appreciate a sunny-tempered son without worrying over his medical history. To inquire about adopting Terry, please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information, ask your local Children's Aid Society.

"The constant pressure of what is fundamentally a growth economy must continue to be a basic factor in the Commission's plans for the future," says Chairman George Gathercole in Ontario Hydro's newly released 1970 annual report.

"It is true that primary demands both in November and December were slightly below forecast levels, owing in part to a generally lower level of economic activity and to strikes in sections of the automobile industry. Primary peak demands in December, nevertheless, were nearly seven per cent higher than those in 1969," Mr. Gathercole said.

The 394,524 customers of Hydro's Eastern Region accounted for a record peak demand of 1,639,387 kilowatts. The provincial peak demand was 11.3 million kilowatts. During the year, Hydro brought into service some 1.2 million kilowatts of new generating capacity.

"This performance in the face of a slowdown in the economy and the upward movement in costs and rates confirms our expectation that demands for electric power will continue to double every 10 or 11 years," Mr. Gathercole said.

Site preparation for Lennox GS, west of Kingston, was begun last August and engineering work was well advanced by the end of the year. The new 2.3 million kilowatt oil-fired station is designed to burn either crude or residual oil.

In 1970 Hydro payrolls in the Eastern Region amounted to $19,856,350. In addition, Hydro also contributed to the region's economy by paying $711,153 in grants to municipalities in lieu of taxes. This includes $264,460 paid regarding the St. Lawrence Power Project.

A major construction program across the province is intended to add almost 12 million kilowatts of new power before the end of the decade. Last year provincial revenue increased 14 per cent over the 1969 figure to reach $534.4 million.

A few years ago, Mr. Gathercole said, this performance in the face of a slowdown in the economy and the upward movement in costs and rates would have been cause for satisfaction.

"Then, the prime concern would have been to guarantee that sufficient power was available to meet the need. Today, however, there are those whose concern is not that we should provide enough power, but that we tend to provide too much. Zero growth is seen as a panacea for our environmental ills."

He said, "While we recognize the idealism and high purpose of these critics, we must question the wisdom of seeking to curb economic growth by restricting the use of electric power."

"If deprived of any of its requirements for electricity, which is energy in its cleanest, most flexible and most convenient form, the community would seek its replacement by energyless conveniences, with varying degrees of atmospheric pollution at the point of usage, and certainly with more harmful effect to the total environment."

Mrs. M. Wickens was hostess for the Bethel UCW held in Min-Hall on June 24 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Russell read the Call to Worship based on Psalm 104, "In wisdom hast thou made them all." The roll call was answered with a verse containing the word "love."

Mrs. T. Laycock read the Scripture taken from the Book of Job 1 followed by prayer. Mrs. H. Elliott was pianist and the hymn More Love to Thee was sung. A skit on the theme, God's Love, was given with Mrs. Elliott as Naomi, Mrs. Pender as Ruth and Mrs. W. Kellar as Orpha. The hymn, O love that will not let me go was sung and Mrs. Laycock led in prayer.

Mrs. T. Clements gave an interesting reading on Water Pollution. A piano solo "Rain drops are falling," was given by Miss Debbie Sine. Mrs. William Heath gave a reading "What Counts."

The Pilgrims Song, was the solo by Mrs. Cox with Mrs. Elliott as pianist.

The Isles of the Caribbees or West Indies was the part of the Study Book taken by Mrs. O. Lightie. With the help of a map and pictures, past history and present circumstances were outlined. The method of growing and harvesting some of the main was described, also a Caribbean Christmas. A short contest followed.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Russell, which included plans for future catering. The collection was received and dedicated. The meeting closed with the Benediction.

Track & field meet held at Centennial

(By Thom Reynolds)

The second annual Hastings County Elementary school Track and Field Meet was held on Tuesday of last week at Centennial Secondary School in Belleville. A total of 500 students from various elementary schools in the county were involved in the eight-hour meet. The winner had not been determined yet but it appeared to be either zone 3 or zone 4 (Belleville West and Belleville East) who would emerge as the top district when the final results are tabulated.

Fifty-six students from Grades 4 to 8 from Stirling Public Schools participated in the meet. Teachers of the Physical Education Department of the school, Doug Phillips, Sharon Green, and Maurice Gunning accompanied the students to the meet.

Robin Linn placed first in the Bantam Girls 440 yd. dash with a time of 1:12.05 and second in the shot put, while the Bantam Girls placed first in the relay with a time of 59.6 seconds. Other good placers were Kevin Solmes with two seconds in the long jump and the triple jump and a third in the 100 yd. dash while Jim Forestell picked up a second place in the shot put. Robert De Jong placed third in the triple jump and Mark Dobson obtained a second in the triple jump.

The school earlier participated in the Area No. 3 Track and Field Meet which was held at Madoc on Wednesday, May 26. Teams came from Stirling, Marmora, Tweed, Madoc and Madoc Township.

Stirling boys placed second in overall total standings with 114 1/3 points. Tweed placed first with 130 1/2 and Marmora third with 73 1/3 points. Stirling girls placed first in overall total standings with 182 points followed by Tweed with 86 and Madoc with 67 points. In total standings with Boys and Girls combined it was Stirling Public Schools first with 296 1/2 points, Madoc Public Schools second with 197 1/3, and Tweed third with 159 1/3 points.

Individual trophy winners from Stirling were Judy Tucker in the Atom Girls with a first place finish, Robin Linn in the Bantam Girls with first place finish, Pearl Hum in the Midget Girls, Robert De Jong in the Bantam Boys division, and Wm Solmes in the Midget Boys division with a first place finish.
